NEW LAWS TO BE DEMANDED AGAINST RUSS

Congress to Be Urged to Bar Number of Soviet Products from U. S.

ANTAGONISM IS GROWING
Present Dumping Laws Not Broad Enough to Keep Reds Within Bounds

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington (CPA)—The Russian
problem has taken a new turn.
Members of congress who were thwarted in their attempts to have an embargo placed on Russian exports during the last session of congress are renewing their proposals that legislation be adopted at the December session which would keep out certain Russian products, including machine tools, lumber, wood pulp, gelatin, wheat and glue.

The United States has always looked with disfavor on dumping and has enacted anti-dumping laws. The treasury department recently was asked to place embargoes on Russian goods that were supposed to be made by convict labor but it is generally supposed that the administration did not think it had sufficient basis for jeopardizing certain Russian purchases in this country. Indeed, this will be the main obstacle toward the adoption of new legislation aimed at Russia. Interests in business with Russia today would naturally oppose anything that would impair trade opportunities.

Unloading by Russia of her products is taking place not only in the United States but in various countries of Europe. Indeed, with the Russian government's policy of discussion and wage scales it is possible for the Communist regime to underbid the workmen of other countries.

WHEAT SALES EXAMPLE
The short selling of wheat is an example of government manipulation. Until the farm settlement is aroused,
however, it is not likely that an embargo against wheat or other products would be looked upon with favor by congress.

The question now is whether the recent wheat selling will end such a sentiment as will guide a bill through congress levying an embargo on Soviet commodities.

The existing dumping laws are not considered broad enough to cover
the operations of the Russian government. Senator Johnson has announced his intention of sponsoring a bill which would prohibit the Soviet government from trading on the wheat exchanges and would also exclude the importation of Russian products.

Due to the complete collapse of the Soviet economic system within Russia," says Mr. Oddie, "and the dire distress that failure has brought to the people of that country, Russia has been forced to experiment in an effort to create paper profits
in foreign trade to offset heavy losses in the domestic trade, all at the expense of industry in America and other countries."

Mr. Oddie declares that Russia is now trying to impose on some of the principal industries of the United States "by dumping exports regardless of price and absorbing production losses through the enslavement of the Russian peasantry and the inflation of its currency."

There is no doubt that members of congress will take advantage of the controversy over Russian short sales operations on the Chicago grain exchange and that from now until anti-Russian speeches will multiply as the clash between the Communistic regime and the American economic system is revealed.

WILL CONVEY FRIDAY
New York (CP)—The congressional committee named to inquire into Communist activities in the United States will convene in New York City

mation on the short selling of wheat
by the All-Russian Textile syndicate,
a Soviet agent.

Jury Picked For Wright Murder Case

Mauston (CP)—A jury to try Lyall Wright, former "boy sheriff" on charges of slaying, from ambush, Clinton Price, district attorney, was selected today. Opening arguments began at once.

Sharing interest with this development was the discovery that relatives of Wright had been questioned secretly at a John Doe hearing Sept.
17.

It was learned that Mrs. Lyall Wright, wife of the defendant, had refused to testify there, as had her son, John Doe, Jr., who was threatened with contempt of court.

A John Doe hearing is rarely resorted to in a murder case. The purpose of the action was not revealed.
It was believed, however, the prosecution sought to identify definitely the gun used in the slaying.

It took more than two days of questioning, and 138 veniremen, to select the 12 jurors. Two special panels had to be called after attorneys quickly went through the first panel of 32.

Those on the jury are:
Mrs. Lou Newman; Wonesow,
housewife; Mrs. Jerry Garven, Elroy, housewife; Ernest Bell, Orange, farmer; Anthony Benson, Elroy, farmer;
Joseph Kolba, Lyndon, farmer; Ed
Schroeder, Wausau, mill worker;
Ben Scott, New Lisbon, farmer; Leslie Reisenauer, Hustler, retired farmer; Henry Feltman, Wonesow, farmer; H. T. Hansen, Orange, farmer; Wesley, Cure Lisbon, farmer; Harvey Gage, Hustler, retired farmer.

Circumstantial evidence, on which the case of the prosecution is based,
provided objectionable only to one venireman.

Going laboriously through their familiar questions, prosecutors, came this morning to the one most frequently repeated: "Would you believe circumstantial evidence?"

"No," I wouldn't," answered Emil Sibert, Lyndon, who was excused.

Prosecutors were asked about the John Doe hearing during a recess.
They refused either to deny or affirm reports it had taken place. It was learned, however, that County Judge R. H. Clark presided. Three of the prosecutors attended: Carl Hill,
O. S. Loomis and H. P. Rowan, district attorney.

VIRGINIA VAN WIE IN LEAD AT CHICAGO MEET

Chicago (CP)—Sailing along with subpar golf, Miss Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, held her lead over the field
today at the three-quarter mark in the 72-hole Women's Western Mediderby. Her total for the 54 holes was 239, or four under par. Mrs. O. S.
Hill, Kansas City, was second, five strokes away.

No Trace Found Of Two Men And Missing Plane

Cleveland, Ohio (CP)—Concern was expressed by air pilots here today for Willard Parker, Cleveland pilot, and William McNulty, Columbus business man, who took off from the Cleveland municipal airport at 1:30 a. m. yesterday and have not been heard from since.

In the belief that the men had flown to Canada, inquiries were sent to airports in various localities
there, but no word of them was received. The men had taken off on Tuesday for Buffalo, but airport officials said they believed that the men may have changed their minds and decided to fly to Canada.

They were in a Curtiss Robin cabin plane, which they had rented.
Parker had only five hours supply of gasoline. Ralph Wenzinger, pilot for the Thompson Aeronautical corporation, said he was told, this

MADISON MAN IS APPOINTED BY GOVERNOR

Appointment of U. W. Law Professor Surprise to Political Forecasters

Madison (CP)—John D. Wickhem, professor of law at the University of Wisconsin, was appointed justice of the state supreme court today by Gov. Walter J. Kohler, succeeding
the late Justice Charles H. Crown-hart.

The new justice will serve until January, 1934, the expiration of the late Justice Crownhart's term. Justice Wickhem must be a candidate for a 10-year term in the April, 1933, election if he desires to continue as a member of the court.

Justice Wickhem is 42 years old and was born in Beloit. He is married and has two children. He served as a teacher in the Beloit high school for four years after graduation from the city school and Beloit college.

After being graduated from the law school of the University of Wisconsin in 1916, he practiced law with Burn W. Jones, former justice of the supreme court. In 1917 he became a member of the law firm of Lend-check, Boesel and Wickhem, Milwaukee, with which he is still associated.

The new justice was attached to the War Trade board at Washington for several months in 1918-1919 and since April, 1919, has been a faculty member at the University of Wisconsin law school. He has specialized in corporation law and commercial paper.

Gov. Kohler's announcement of Wickhem's appointment said "Mr.
Wickhem is a Democrat in politics."
In choosing the University law professor as the next justice, Gov.
Kohler provoked surprise
among many groups interested in the selection. While Prof. Wickhem is well-known in student and faculty circles, he has taken little active part in state politics.

Although the governor's choice of a new justice came as a surprise, it was generally conceded that the successor to the late Justice Crownhart would be a resident of Madison or some city in the southern part of the state.

STEVENS' SEAT VACANT

The appointment of Prof. Wickhem filled one seat on the court vacant. Gov. Kohler has yet to appoint a successor to the late Justice E. Ray Stevens who died several weeks ago.

When the last seat is filled, Gov.
Kohler will have appointed five of the seven seats on the court.

MAY FORM PERMANENT U. S. EUCHARISTIC BODY

Omaha (CP)—As the sixth national Eucharistic congress swung into the third and final day of its solemn rites here today, plans were taking definite shape for the organization of a permanent Eucharistic States committee in the United States to supervise the staging of future congresses at definite intervals.

Bishop Joseph W. Schrembs of Cleveland, Ohio, today stated that
"more than 12 cities in this nation are anxious for the next Eucharistic congress, and a permanent organization is certainly the next step." He added that it is planned to hold a national congress once every five years in the future with a regional conference to be held in different sections of the country in the intervening four years.

A series of business sessions of the priests' Eucharistic league and a program of the Blessed Sacrament about the grounds of St. Cecilia cathedral here were scheduled to mark
the closing day of the congress.

Versailles Treaty To Be Ignored When Fascists Gain Rule, Hitler Says

Leipsic, Germany (CP)—Adolf Hitler, Fascist generalissimo, today declared that just as soon as the German Fascists by legal means have captured political power in Germany,
they will shelve the treaty of Versailles if necessary by means looked upon by the world as illegal.

His sensational announcement of purpose was made at the trial of three Reichswehr officers to which he had been summoned as a witness.

"The National Socialists do not regard the international agreements as law but as something forced upon us," he said. "Germany is gaged by the peace treaties. We do not acknowledge our guilt in the war, especially not the guilt of future generations. When we shall oppose these treaties by every possible means, we shall find ourselves in the midst of revolution."

"We shall oppose these treaties
both diplomatically and by completely evading them. That may be looked upon by the world as an illegal method, but we will not employ it until the party has been victorious.
After two or three more elections
our party will be in the majority."

"The National Socialist movement will pursue its aims within the state with means prescribed by the constitution. The constitution, however, prescribed only the method and not the final end. We will make our party the decisive factor by means of the law making bodies but at the moment that our party has the power
we will mould the state in the form that we consider the right one."

Hitler, whose Fascist party made heavy gains in the recent German elections expounded in detail the aim of his party to create a new German state—not by armed revolt but
by a bloodless constitutional revolution.
He cited Mussolini's re-creation of Italy as an example of the peaceful reorganizing of a nation in the flame of reborn national consciousness.

Beginning quietly, with his hands folded in front of him, Hitler became more and more emotional as he proceeded and the presiding judge sev-

ANSWERS PROTESTS ON USE OF NON-UNION LABOR

Washington (CP)—Employment of non-union labor in re-painting the White House has called forth so many protests that Col. U. S. Grant, 3rd, director of public buildings and parks, today made public an official explanation.

Colonel Grant, who is directly responsible to President Hoover for the upkeep of the chief executive's home, said his office was "not prone to indulge in give contracts to the employees of non-union labor. He said, however, an investigation had revealed the contractor submitting the lowest bid paid his non-union laborers equal or higher wages than the government itself for similar work."

A total of $117,805 worth of work has been done on the White House since Jan. 1, Col. Grant said, and the job of painting the exterior costing $6,300, was the only one let to a non-union contractor.

AUSTRIAN CABINET MEMBERS RESIGN

Action Culminates Friction Developed by Internal Differences

Vienna (CP)—Chancellor Scher-ber and the entire Austrian cabinet resigned this afternoon after Dr. Johann Schober, formerly chief of the Vienna police force, reformed his cabinet on Sept. 22, 1929,
and has been in power in Austria
since that time.

The cabinet in recent weeks has developed internal friction as an outgrowth of a conflict over the proposed appointment of Dr. Traefella, a Fascist, to be managing director of the state railways. The appointment of Dr. Traefella was favored by Vice Chancellor Vaugin while Chancellor
Schober opposed it.

Reports were current that the cabinet had decided to resign but Dr. Schober, who is the only member to present its resignation.

JOHN HAY WHITNEY WEDS TODAY IN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia (CP)—Miss Mary Elizabeth Altemus, widely known horsewoman of this city, and John Hay Whitney, New York sportsman, polo player and heir to the $100,000, 000 fortune left by his father, the late Payne Whitney, are to be married today.

The wedding is to take place at 4 o'clock p. m. in the Church of St.
James at Falls of Schuylkill. Only members of the immediate families will be present.

The marriage license was issued yesterday. Mr. Whitney gave his occupation as banker and his age as 26.
Miss Altemus is 24 and the daughter of Mrs. Bessie Dobson Altemus Eastman.

Miss Altemus has won many prizes at horse shows and a few seasons ago starred as a woman polo player. At the Devon horse show last May she rode three of Mr. Whitney's horses.

WOULD-BE ASSASSIN FACES BELGIAN COURT

Brussels, Belgium (CP)—Fernando de Rosa, young Italian student, today said that hatred of Fascism and all that it implies led him to attempt the assassination of Crown Prince Humbert of Italy, last October, in Brussels. De Rosa went on trial today for this offense.

After the selection of a jury and the usual preliminaries, de Rosa was asked to explain why he had attempted to kill the crown prince. He thereupon launched into an impassioned discourse in fluent French, starting with an account of his enlistment as a young boy under the Fascist banner and describing how he finally became convinced that Fascism meant disregard of the public liberties. This he said, resulted in his becoming anti-Fascist.

FEDS WOULD CLOSE DRINK PARLORS HERE

Start Padlock Proceedings
in U. S. District Court
as Result of Raids

Padlock proceedings against two Appleton softdrink parlors and two in Calumet-co, have been started in United States district court, Milwaukee, before Judge Ferdinand Geiger,
it was learned Wednesday when papers ordering padlocking of the places to appear in Milwaukee were received.

Places against which the action
was started are The Club Cafe, 205
W. College-ave, operated by Tom Miller; the soft drink parlor at 525 W.
College-ave, operated by Peter Lan-ser; the Two White Post Inn, on Highway 10, 13 miles east of Fane-gus's corners and operated by Walter Smolinski; and the soft drink parlor at Waverly Beach operated by Howard Campbell.

The charges against the operators is maintaining a nuisance. If the charges are upheld, the parlors will be padlocked for a year. The action is the first in three or four years started against soft drink parlor operators in this vicinity. The last place to be padlocked here was Rainbow Gardens.

Action against the operators, who will appear before the federal judge
Saturday, was taken by Assistant United States District Attorney E.
E. Vanderveer, Milwaukee, at the request of the state prohibition department headed by W. Frank Cunningham, Milwaukee.

CHARGES DISMISSED

On the evening of Saturday, Sept.
6, Cunningham and the entire state prohibition department descended on the four soft drink parlors against which the action has been started,
and in each instance except the Lan-ser place, secured alleged intoxicating liquors. Proprietors of the places were locked up for twenty-four hours, and a $10,000 fine was levied on each. The charges against the operators were dismissed.

Commissioner John W. Waldron,
Green Bay, Bond was set at $500
each and the hearing set for the Sept. 18, the charges being having in possession and selling intoxicating liquors and maintaining a public nuisance.

When the case was called at Green Bay, the charges were dismissed.

48 EXECUTED BY RUSS GOVERNMENT AT MOSCOW

Moscow (CP)—Forty-eight Russians who dared to oppose the Moscow Soviet regime have paid with their lives for their opposition.

An official communique through Tass, Soviet news agency, said all members—numbering 48—of the counter-revolutionary society revealed by the Soviet government and secret police after trial and conviction on charges of attempting to starve the population of the U. S. S. R.
by destroying the food reserves of the country.

Their activities, it was charged, embraced the organization of the meat,
fish, vegetable and other industries
as well as the commissariat of trade and state planning institutions.

McCarthy Quits; Hornsby Placed In Charge Of Cubs

Chicago (CP)—Joe McCarthy, resigned manager of the Cubs, today announced that he was resigning
as manager of the National league pennant contenders. Rogers Hornsby was placed in immediate charge of the team as the Cubs prepared to battle Cincinnati.

McCarthy resided at a conference attended by William L. Verck, president of the Cubs, and William Virgley, Jr., chairman of the board of directors.

The conference, it was reported,
was a stormy one. It was McCarthy's
last meeting with Verck and Virgley.
If they lose while the Cardinals are defeating Pittsburgh, the race will be over, with the Cardinals champions. But if the Cubs win they still have a possible chance.

The Cubs have four more games to
play before the finish of the season,
with Cincinnati as the remaining opponent.

Jones Wins, To Play In Semi-Finals

BULLETIN
Merion Cricket Club, Ardmore, Pa. (CP)—Bobby Jones, with a smashing finish, swept into the semi-finals of the National Amateur Golf championship tournament by overwhelmingly defeating Fay Coleman, 25-year-old Californian 6 and 5 in the 36-hole quarter-finals. Only two matches now stand between the Georgian and a clean sweep
for the year.

Merion Cricket Club, Ardmore, Pa.
(CP)—After a hard fight in which he was defeated, exhibition of golf Bobby Jones gained a lead of two up over Billy McPhail of Boston for the quarter final match in the National Amateur Golf championship.

Gene Homans, New Jersey star, piled up the most commanding lead of the morning when he won three straight holes to go 4 up on Johnny Lehman of Chicago, the western amateur champion.

Maurice "Ironman" McCarthy,
black-haired New York youngster,
fought Jess Sweetser to a standstill,
and was 1 up at the end of the morning round.

Charles Seaver, 19-year-old Los Angeles youth after being two down at the turn and still two down at the 11th staged a rally and went 1 up over Billy McPhail of Boston for the round.

Jones was away off form and hard pressed to gain any kind of a lead on Coleman, whose poor putting cost him chances at least to hold the triple champion on even terms. Bobby didn't have a single birdie and on many holes he was struggling to get his par, winding up with a score of 76 to Coleman's 68.

For the third time in two straight matches, the Georgian drove out of bounds. He three putted on two holes, besides having considerable use for his niblick in traps.

NYE ADJOURNS INQUIRY UNTIL FURTHER CALL

Lincoln, Neb. (CP)—With the declaration that the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures would demonstrate it could not be "played with witnesses who change their testimony," Senator Gerald P.
Nye, chairman of the committee, adjourned the Nebraska hearing this afternoon until further call. Today he heard about political activities of the grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in Colorado and Nebraska.

FUNERAL WILL BE HELD HERE NEXT MONDAY

Veteran Pastor of St. Mary Church in Ill Health for Three Years

WON HONORS FROM POPE Made Member of Papal Household for Labors in Church and Diocese

Monsignor Walter J. Fitzmaurice, 72, pastor of St. Mary Catholic church for almost 45 years, died at 8:35 last night at St. Elizabeth hospital where he had been confined since Aug. 5. He had been in failing health for about three years,
suffering with a heart affliction,
and early in August he was stricken with influenza.

Although arrangement of details for the funeral await word from Bishop Paul F. Rhode of Green Bay, who is in Omaha attending the Eucharistic congress, the service will be held at 10 o'clock Monday morning at St. Mary church. The funeral mass at 10 o'clock will be preceded by the Office of the Dead, recited
by the priests at 9:30.

The body has been taken to the Schommer Funeral home from St.
Elizabeth hospital and will be taken to St. Mary church at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon where it will rest in state until the funeral. A constant vigil will be kept in the church but arrangements for this have not been completed. Burial will be in St. Mary cemetery.

Sessions in St. Mary school were suspended this morning and will not be resumed until Tuesday. The children will congregate at the school at 2:30 Friday afternoon, so they may be present when the body is taken into the church. A request has been made that no flowers be sent either to the church or to the home.

Although death was expected momentarily since yesterday morning he was conscious to the end, but was unable to recognize persons his bedside. Among the last to call was Dr. H. E. Penabody, pastor of the congregational church, whose friendship with Father Fitzmaurice amounted almost to an intimacy.
Among those at the bedside when death came was the Rev. Patrick Clifford, pastor of St. Patrick church of Menasha, probably Father Fitzmaurice's closest friend, who has been with him almost daily since he was removed to the hospital.
Father Fitzmaurice was an assistant to Father Fitzmaurice, after the latter became pastor of St. Mary church.

Although most modest and retiring
by nature Father Fitzmaurice was intimately connected with the development not only of his own parish but with the city as a whole for almost a half century.

MONSIGNOR IN 1922

He came to Appleton on Nov. 1, 1887 as assistant to the Rev. Ferdinand Tanguay, then pastor of St.
Mary church and after the latter's death on Nov. 25, 1887, he was named pastor of the congregation.

In 1922 he was given the rank of monsignor by Pope Benedict XV in recognition of his labors in the diocesan campaign for funds to support its charities and also in recognition of his long service in the priesthood.

Father Fitzmaurice's modesty prevented his congregation from paying him the tribute it wished to pay him on the occasion of the fortieth anniversary of his coming to Appleton three years ago. He had been three years ago to observe the occasion but when Father Fitzmaurice was informed of the plan he promptly vetoed it, pleading that he did not want to be in the limelight.

FRIEND OF WALSH

The priest was born in Nossouth, Manitowoc on July 27, 1858 and received his early education in the public schools of his county and he also attended a normal school in Manitowoc. Following his graduation he taught school in Manitowoc for three years and among his associates was Thomas J. Walsh of Two Rivers, now Senator Walsh of Montana.

After three years of teaching school Father Fitzmaurice entered St. Francis seminary near Milwaukee and was graduated with the highest honors of his class in 1883
and because of his scholastic attainments was sent to the University of Salzburg in Austria to complete his studies in philosophy and theology.
He was ordained to the priesthood at Salzburg on July 16, 1888, and celebrated his first mass at St. Augustine, Manitowoc, on Aug. 15, 1888.

Soon after he was appointed to the pastorate of St. Mary church at Winnecone and St. Mary church at Omro, serving both parishes until he was transferred to Appleton
as assistant to Father Tanguay.

BUILT SCHOOL
Almost immediately after he succeeded Father Tanguay as pastor of St. Mary church he led the congregation in acquiring property

a site for a parochial school. Con-

rectors.

The conference, it was reported,
was a stormy one. It was McCarthy's
last meeting with Verck and Virgley.
If they lose while the Cardinals are

have a possible chance.

The Cubs have four more games to
play before the finish of the season,
with Cincinnati as the remaining opponent.

Hoover Kept Campaign Pledges, Stimson Declares

DRY LAW NOT MENTIONED IN KEYNOTE TALK

Secretary Praises President for Keeping "Ship of Business Steady"

Albany, N. Y. —(AP)— Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state, in the keynote address at the Republican state convention today, declared the Hoover administration by legislative or executive action has redeemed 85 of its 95 campaign pledges.

He made no mention of prohibition one of the major problems before the convention's platform makers.

He devoted his address to praise of the national administration and asked that it be measured in the light of the business depression. Citing President Hoover's activities after the stock market crash last fall, Secretary Stimson declared these had held "the ship of business steady."

"It was the first time that such leadership had been exercised by any of our presidents in a similar crisis," he said. "It prevented the immediate panic which threatened in the autumn of 1929, and to date throughout a long and worldwide strain it is still holding the labor and industry of the United States in a situation which is far more stable than that in other countries, and in this country in other times."

"It is inevitable that this economic situation should be in the background of our minds when we appraise the work of the administration whose thoughts and work it has occupied so prominent a position during the last 18 months."

Reviewing the achievements of the administration Mr. Stimson dealt with the tax reduction effected on last year's incomes, enactment of the Smoot-Hawley tariff and the agricultural marketing act, and the strengthening of the merchant marine.

The principal problem to which President Hoover addressed himself on assuming office, said Mr. Stimson, was the betterment of foreign relations. The secretary praised the manner in which these were handled and declared:

"The entire relations between this country and Latin America have been placed upon a new and sounder basis."

"The maintenance of peace is an active practice with Mr. Hoover. The best way to maintain peace is to watch incipient irritations between nations and remove them—to study and plan to guide events beforehand as far as possible, a method particularly characteristic with Mr. Hoover. This is shown by the way in which he created the opportunity for the London naval conference."

KEEP US PLACID

"The results of that conference are so recent and well known it is unnecessary to review them. When that treaty is finally ratified, for the first time in history naval competition will be entirely ended between the greatest naval powers—America, Britain and Japan."

Summing up, Secretary Stimson said the present year has been a year in which the country has completely redeemed its campaign pledges into performance.

This was accomplished only by means of an effective cooperation between the president and congress, a cooperation rendered uniquely difficult by factional divisions in his own party in the senate.

"These accomplishments were the result of study, planning and the foresight by the executive, and the constructive solutions thus obtained will be of fundamental and increasing benefit to the public."

SEEK FURTHER LIGHT ON 2ND NORRIS RACE

Nye Trying to Find Motives Behind Candidacy of Broken Bow Grocer

Lincoln, Neb. —(AP)— Motives and agencies that operated to "beat" Senator George W. Norris for re-nomination in the recent primaries were hunted by the senatorial investigating committee today in the testimony of additional witnesses.

Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota, committee chairman, hopes to wind up the Nebraska hearings today. He was particularly anxious to hear from Oscar Drake, a Kearney attorney, in the belief Drake might have some further information on the filing of "George W. Norris, the second," as a candidate opposing Senator Norris. The "second" Norris was a Broken Bow grocer whose candidacy, finally tossed out by the supreme court of the state, threatened to add considerable confusion to the Republican senatorial contest.

The committee yesterday was told by Miss Esther Alton, a stenographer, that she had worked in the offices of Victor Seymour prior to the primaries, and that the purpose of Seymour was "to beat Senator Norris." Some of her testimony hinted that the opposition to Senator Norris was financed "in the east."

Seymour, who now is assistant vice chairman of the Republican committee in charge of western headquarters at Denver, advised the committee that he would be glad of an opportunity to present his side of the story later. He denied sponsoring the candidacy of George W. Norris "The second" and of having any part in financing it.

Elected at Geneva

FRANK B. KELLOGG

Pick World Justices At Geneva Meet

Geneva, (AP)—Frank B. Kellogg, former American secretary of state and thirteen other men, including two Latin Americans, were elected to the bench of the world court, today by the assembly and the council of the league of nations.

For the fifteenth position on the court, two other Latin-Americans and a European were the candidates as balloting progressed in the afternoon without any decisive result.

The following were elected on the first ballot in separate voting of both the assembly and the council:

Frank B. Kellogg, United States.
Antonio Sanchez de Bustamante, Cuba.
J. Gustavo Guerrero, San Salvador.

Mineichiro Adachi, Japan.
Rafael Altamira y Crevea, Spain.
Dionisio Anzilotti, Italy.
Willem van Eysinga, Holland.
Henri Fromageot, France.
Sir Cecil Hurst, Great Britain.
Demetris Negulesco, Rumania.
Baron Rokin Jacquemyns, Belgium.

Count Michael Rotkowsky, Poland.
Walter Schucking, Germany.
Wang Chung-Hui, China.

Nominees for the fifteenth place on the world court were Francisco Jose Urrutia of Colombia, Miguel Cruchaga Tocornal of Chile, and Aka Hammarskjold of Sweden. With 27 votes necessary for election by the assembly, none of the three was able to win a majority after several ballots had been taken, after the fourth ballot the vote stood:

Urrutia, 23; Hammarskjold, 21; Cruchaga, 4.

Urrutia finally was chosen by the assembly on its fifth ballot but the council's choice was Cruchaga. Either the Colombian or the Chilean will be elected to the bench late this afternoon or tonight and thereby Latin-America will have three representatives on the court.

Election of the judges was in accordance with a new statute of the league providing for an increase of the membership from 11 to 15. Those elected today will begin nine year terms next Jan. 1. Almost half of them, however, will be "veterans" of the 11-man tribunal. Kellogg already is a member of the court, having been named as the successor of Charles Evans Hughes when the American chief justice resigned from the international court in order to return to the bench of the highest court in the United States.

Other members of the present court who were reelected are Bustamante of Cuba, Altamira of Spain, Hurst of Great Britain, Fromageot of France, Negulesco of Rumania, and Wang Chung-Hui of China.

When the world court begins its service with increased personnel next year the judges will also receive larger salaries and have the additional advantage of a pension plan from which they can benefit after a certain number of years.

NEGRO LYNCHED BY WHITES IN GEORGIA

Identified by Young Girl as Man Who Attempted to Attack Her

Thomasville, Ga. —(AP)— Willie Kirkland, 20-year-old Negro convict, said to have been identified by a 12-year-old school girl as the man who attempted to attack her, was lynched here today.

Kirkland, serving a sentence on the chain gang for horse stealing, was taken from Sheriff Gordon E. Davis and several deputies who were seeking to transfer him to a nearby town for safe keeping.

The men who seized the Negro numbered between 50 and 75. Kirkland was hanged from a tree.

After lynching him, the men tied his body to the rear of a truck and drove to the city, circled the public square and deposited it finally on the courthouse lawn.

Kirkland was arrested yesterday along with five other Negroes.

During the night Kirkland was taken from the jail to the home of the girl who identified him. Shortly after daylight he was taken before the girl who again said he was the one who attempted to attack her. It was after his second visit that officers sought to spirit him away but were balked by the mob.

Doubt that Kirkland was the person who attacked the girl was said to have been expressed today by the warden of the convict camp. He was quoted as saying the Negro did not leave the camp yesterday.

CITY MUST WORK TO BOOST TRADE, EXPERTS DECLARE

Community Mindedness Is Necessary to Face Modern Competition

More than 300 Appleton merchants and employees, attending the closing session of the two-day Retail Institute at the Vocational school Wednesday evening, listened to a plea for community mindedness and took mental notes on how to demonstrate goods in a store to a customer.

The institute, sponsored by the University of Wisconsin Extension division, the chamber of commerce, and the Appleton Vocational school, opened Tuesday. It was marked by capacity attendances at every session. R. E. Ellingwood and J. R. Doering, extension division instructors, were the speakers.

"Community mindedness is necessary to meet the new competition between communities," said Mr. Doering, whose subject was Developing Your City As a Shopping Center.

Automobiles and good roads have widened the market for the average consumer, so a community must exert itself more than ever if it is to hold its own customers and attract those from the nearby vicinity, he pointed out.

WHAT ATTRACTS PEOPLE

Surveys have proved that people are attracted to a particular center by at least four principal factors, according to Mr. Doering.

"They are: Ample assortment of goods; latest style trends; better prices; and attractions of the city as a whole."

The wider the assortment of goods the more appeal will that community have for customers, and the more anxious will customers be to trade there he advised.

Styles must be up-to-the-minute so that customers will be confident they will always find new goods.

If the stocks are equal in value otherwise, the customer will be influenced to trade at a particular center by the price.

An attractive city, with beautiful parks, wide and clean streets, and neat stores, will draw more people than one that is shabby.

The practice of sales promotion events, such as trade days or dollar days, was recommended by the speaker. Sales events are a recognition of the new type of competition, but merchants must be careful not to overdo them, he cautioned. He advised that these events be varied, and that special prizes, privileges and other attractions be put forward on such days.

GOOD-WILL BUILDERS

Other good-will builders that merchants can sponsor were suggested as follows:

Community auctions, farm-city dinners, food shows, band concerts, and recreation programs in stores.

Mr. Ellingwood, discussing the subject, How to Sell More Goods, said there are three steps in the sale of a product. They are: Approach, demonstration and close of sale. His talk Wednesday evening dealt chiefly with the demonstration.

The principal problem confronting the salesman in the demonstration is to arouse the customer's interest, he pointed out. To do this, the salesman must stress quality, style and uses. It is essential, of course, that he be well acquainted with the facts about the product.

"There is a particular course that should be followed in the majority of sales talks," he said. "The most important selling points should be discussed first. While the salesman is talking, he should watch his customer closely to note what points are proving the most effective."

"Obvious selling points should not be overlooked, and specific words and phrases should be employed. A salesman can increase or decrease the value of an article by the way he handles it."

He advised salesmen to induce action toward the merchandise, to appeal to the senses of the customer, and to employ human interest information if possible.

He urged the salesmen to use his imagination and cautioned him not to show too much eagerness.

"Be careful about mentioning the price, relate only such facts as pertain to the customer's particular problem, study his objections, don't argue with him, and know answers to questions beforehand," he concluded.

GUST IS NEW HEAD OF TROOP COMMITTEE

Other members of the committee this year will be Frank Younger, R. E. Pfund, Joseph Hopfensperger, and Frank Barthelme.

The newly organized valley council committee will hold another meeting early next month at which time plans for raising a troop fund will be discussed. Walter Fox, scoutmaster reported on camping activities during the past summer.

Scouts of Troop 11 will go on a hike to Center swamp next Monday after school, returning about 8:30 in the evening.

CRIMINAL CAPTURED AT POINT OF DAGGER BY AUSTRALIAN GIRL

Sydney —(AP)—Jewell Ferguson, 18-year-old daughter of Sergeant Ferguson, a leading Sydney police official, is to be rewarded by the government for making one of the most sensational civilian arrests for many years.

Single-handed she marched a desperate criminal, for whom police had been searching the whole state, to the lock-up.

Miss Ferguson arrived home from a dance and, hearing a noise in her father's study, crept down the hall and saw the criminal perusing her father's papers and confidential police records. Without alarming the sleeping man she reached upward to where some of her father's hunting trophies were hanging and took down a long-handled wild pig dagger.

Flicking her captive in the back of the neck to turn to prevent him turning round she marched him to the watch house with his hands stretched above his head.

TAMMANY LEADERS SUMMONED BEFORE GRAND JURY GROUP

Two Refuse to Waive Immunity in Probe of Alleged Judgeship Sale

New York —(AP)—Subpenas were out today summoning all the Tammany district leaders in Manhattan before the special grand jury investigating alleged judgeship purchasing after John P. Curry, Tammany chieftain, and Charles H. Kohler, city budget director, refused to waive immunity.

The special grand jury which was ordered by Governor Roosevelt, already has indicted former Magistrate George F. Ewald, his wife and Martin J. Healy, a Tammany leader, on charges that Ewald paid Healy $10,000 for his appointment. The grand jury now is seeking to determine whether office buying is prevalent.

Curry and Kohler emerged from the grand jury room yesterday showing signs of anger and declaring they had been insulted. They said they had been asked to sign waivers of immunity and had indignantly refused.

Curry said, "I came down here to testify and I was insulted."

Kohler was in addition to being a member of Mayor Walker's official family, is leader in the Tenth assembly district, was more specific. He said:

"They asked me to waive immunity as soon as I got inside. I told them I came here to answer questions, not to sign papers and I told them I wouldn't sign."

Hiram C. Todd, special assistant attorney general, in charge of the inquiry, refused of a public officer or a quasi-public officer to waive immunity in an investigation of this character is a hindrance to the investigation because it cuts off our natural source of information.

"Some time ago I said that any one who refused to waive immunity in this investigation casts suspicion upon himself. I think that is fair and I repeat it."

The grand jury wished to question Curry concerning the processes by which Tammany fills vacant posts on the magistrature's bench and other city offices. Kohler was called to testify to the circumstances of the appointment of Judge Amadeo Bertini to the general sessions bench to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge Francis X. Mancuso.

FARMER IS FINED FOR DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Found guilty of assault and battery against a woman, August Strossenreuther, Little Wolf farmer, was fined $10 and costs of $65 by Justice S. W. Johnson at Waupaca yesterday.

The case climaxed an altercation between the farmer and Mrs. Clara Zempel, also of Little Wolf, on Sept. 16. A bull belonging to the farmer strayed into the Zempel property and was tied up.

When Strossenreuther sought to get his bull back, Mrs. Zempel told him to wait until her husband returned home. Strossenreuther objected, finally resorting to force in an effort to induce Mrs. Zempel to comply with his request, according to testimony brought out in court. She repulsed his attack with a pitch fork.

MERCHANTS TOLD HOW TO EDUCATE THEIR EMPLOYEES

Young Sales People Recommended by Extension Division Expert

Modern methods of training and paying salespeople were discussed in an address by R. E. Ellingwood, university extension speaker, at the final noon session of the Retail Institute at the Kiwanis club luncheon at Conway hotel Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Doering, the other speaker, addressed the group on Making More Profits in Retailing. About 100 people were present.

Managers of modern selling institutions are gradually adopting the modern method of hiring and training younger sales people, rather than holding aged persons who have been sapping the life of the institution with their large salaries and giving less service in return, Mr. Ellingwood said.

"Many modern managers realize that young salespeople have young ideas and help the buyers purchase modern creations, which also catch the eye of the customer, while the old help still waddles in old ideas, and thus breaks down the modernistic fibre of the institution," he said.

Mr. Ellingwood said it is advisable to put more responsibility on their shoulders and thus put them into a partnership spirit.

He scored the "paternal attitude" method of some store managers. He said that method tended to make salespeople irresponsible and lazy, and brings about no incentive, and brings about jealousy.

APPROVES CONTEST

He said he favors holding contests in stores, thus giving the salespeople a chance to vie with one another in boosting various articles and getting to know their merchandise better.

In discussing the three methods of paying salespeople, Mr. Ellingwood said he deplored the straight salary, and bonus-quota methods, but favored a conservative commission basis, plus a fair standard salary.

"The straight salary method tends to make salespeople self satisfied, and brings about no incentive, and better themselves," he said. It also tends to force employers to raise salaries from year to year, thus keeping old salespeople, and again breaking down the modernistic fibre of the institution.

"The bonus-quota method is the worst. It keeps the 'green-eyed monster' jealousy alive in an institution, and often causes the downfall of a department store. It keeps the young salespeople in the background and gives the 'old fogies' the chance to collect the highest revenues due to big sales reaped from old friends and acquaintances."

"The bonus-quota method brings about complicated records and many stores now operating on that basis keep large ledgers on salary expense, a needless expense in itself."

"The combination method seems to be working the best, according to recent surveys conducted by business executives. It keeps alive a strong incentive for salespeople to better themselves, and to move merchandise at a greater speed. It brings about equality and fair-mindedness among the sales force."

Mr. Doering's talk was of a technical nature, dealing entirely in stock control and inventories. He outlined briefly the proper methods of line control, stock checking, line formula and stock watching. His talk was illustrated with charts and diagrams.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS PREVALENT IN STATE

Madison —(AP)—Infantile paralysis, which claimed 16 deaths in Wisconsin last year, is prevalent in the state board of health reported today.

In the belief that school rooms present a favorable setting for epidemic of the malady, the board urged that precautions be taken and that prompt diagnosis of suspicious cases be made.

"Preventive measures against infantile paralysis are difficult to apply, in that the germ is probably carried in the mouth and nose secretions of some healthy persons as well as those afflicted," the board said.

Infantile paralysis develops within five to 10 days after exposure to the germ, rarely being discovered until paralysis occurs. The board cautioned parents to use great patience during convalescent periods.

The disease reached epidemic proportions in 1925 when 61 persons died and 313 suffered from the malady. In 1927 there were 40 deaths attributed to the disease.

POLICE HERE ASKED TO FIND MISSING BOY

Appleton police officials have been asked to assist in the search for Arthur Carey, 20, Green Bay, who has been missing from his home since Sept. 20. The boy left home to attend a midnight show and hasn't been seen since. He is about five feet, eight inches tall, weighs 160 pounds, and has dark brown hair and large gray eyes. When he left home he wore a dark blue double breasted suit, a red and black checked macinaw coat, a light green shirt and black oxfords.

ENROLLMENT AT COLLEGE HIGHER THAN LAST YEAR

Increase of More Than 3 Per Cent Indicated by Early Figures

Enrollment at Lawrence college shows an increase of more than 3 per cent over figures of a year ago, according to a preliminary total announced today by Olin A. Mead, registrar. There are 712 students enrolled in the four college classes as compared with 690 a year ago. Conservatory registrations not yet completed is expected to bring the grand total up to last year's figure of more than 1,000 students.

The increased enrollment results from two factors, according to college authorities. Among last year's student body and an increase in the number of new students transferring from other institutions. It was pointed out that the increase in total enrollment has been secured in spite of the fact that freshmen classes recruited upon an ever more selective basis have been smaller during the past two years. Wisdom of the policy of greater selectivity even at the expense of smaller first-year classes is seen in the fact that longer sophomore classes have resulted than in the past have come from larger freshman classes. Selection of better students, denying admission to those who if admitted would drop out for scholastic reasons, makes possible larger upper classes. Lawrence authorities declared.

Final registration lists and totals will not be announced until the annual catalog is issued in early December. The preliminary survey indicates that the wide geographical distribution of Lawrence students of one year ago, namely over sixteen states of the union, will be maintained in spite of financial pressure as it affects travel costs.

Bids are sought on 30,000 regular and 4,000 sample ballots on the state and county tickets; 30,000 regular and 4,000 sample ballots on a referendum to determine whether the governor should be given the power to veto or approve appropriation bills, either in whole or in part. EXPECT DAMAGE SUIT TO GO TO JURY TODAY

Testimony in the suit for $1,095 damages, brought by the Graf Manufacturing company against F. F. Wettengel, Appleton, had not yet been completed in municipal court before Judge Theodore Berg at noon today. However, it is expected, the jury, which has been listening to testimony for three days, will receive the case this afternoon. The Graf company asks a judgment against Wettengel claiming the amount it seeks is due on a bill for materials. Wettengel filed a counterclaim for premiums on two insurance policies which he alleges he sold the firm. The premiums, he claims, offset the bill and the company still owes him $600.

Says She Was Hounded Into Shooting Of Commissioner

Enid, Okla. —(AP)—Instilling she was "tortured" and "hounded" into shooting H. Z. Wedgwood, United States commissioner, and attempting to shoot Judge Arthur Sutton, in district court here yesterday, Mrs. Dolly Douthitt, eccentric elderly widow, was held in jail today awaiting the outcome of Wedgwood's injuries.

Angered when a civil suit was decided against her and in favor of Wedgwood, Mrs. Douthitt shot Wedgwood in the abdomen and sent a wild bullet at Judge Sutton, on the bench. Attorneys and bailiffs overpowered her.

Mrs. Douthitt, whose gun play revived memories that she was acquitted of the slaying of her husband 26 years ago, told newspapermen she was "a volcano by temperament."

"They tortured me into it; they hounded me into it," the woman declared. "For months they have been after my money. I have $35,000 or $40,000 they are trying to get."

"I don't know why I did it. I don't know why I wanted to kill."

Long known to Enid townspeople for her peculiarities, Mrs. Douthitt came to court to act as her own lawyer in a group of suits in which she was involved. The case which led to the shooting grew out of her house.

Authorities waited for further word from the hospital where Wedgwood is in a critical condition before filing charges.

WINTER DESSERTS CAN BE MADE NOW AT LITTLE EXPENSE

Unusually Low Price of Sugar and Fruit Makes Home-canning Pay

The continuous appearance of luscious fruits and berries in the market, and sugar at an unheard-of low price, give every housewife the opportunity to put up a wide variety of preserves, jellies and jams at a most reasonable cost. With these home-canned delicacies on hand, the problem of next winter's desserts can be easily solved.

From the viewpoint of health, canned fruit, jellies and jams should appear daily in the winter diet. Many canned fruits are rich in vitamins. Their flavor arouses the appetite, and their sugar content helps to make a meal enjoyable.

Aside from eating jelly or jam with bread or toast, they are a delicious accompaniment for meats and fish. And a spoonful used to top rice or bread puddings makes these nourishing desserts more taste-appealing.

As sugar plays an important part in preserving, so can it be equally essential in the preparation of every-day meals. Sugar when used to season canned or fresh vegetables improves their flavor, thereby making them more enjoyable to the taste. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. Committee Appointed To Study Garbage Question

6 ALDERMEN ARE SELECTED BY GOODLAND

Invasion of Cockroaches in Dump Brought Matter to Head

Six aldermen have been appointed by Mayor John Goodland, Jr., to investigate Appleton's garbage disposal problem. They are Aldermen H. G. Kitchner, chairman, George Packard, Oren Earle, Walter Gmelin, C. J. Wassenaar and Richard Groth.

Although the disposal of city garbage has been the subject of endless heated dispute in the past, it took the recent invasion of hoards of cockroaches to elevate it to a position of preeminent importance. Instead of fruitless haggling over the cost of renting a dumping ground, the obligation of the city to dispose of refuse, and the right of the city treasury to stand up under the expense of constructing an incinerator, the council, flanked on all sides by the hue and cry over the cockroach situation, voted at its last meeting to appoint a committee to thoroughly investigate the problem.

The history of the garbage problem is a perfectly rounded picture of cause and result. Appleton had garbage. Appleton had to dispose of it. An old dump site was located on the John Tracy farm for $85 a month. Appleton had ravines that could stand some filling. Permission was given to dump garbage into some of these ravines. When the Lawrence-st bridge was removed the logical plan seemed to supplement sand fill with whatever garbage-tin cans, barrels, old paper, anyone chose to dump to the ravine.

Between the John Tracy farm, which handled most of the refuse from meat markets and other business places in the city, the Lawrence-st bridge and other ravines, Appleton's garbage was disposed of. There were periodic eruptions in council meetings over the high cost of renting the Tracy dump, but argument carried no farther than the walls of the council chambers.

Then a cockroach found a nesting place in the heart of the Lawrence-st dump. Other cockroaches were born. They began to scurry here and there, and finally, not satisfied with the perfect quarters that a garbage dump provides, they began emigrating to adjoining property.

Property holders got excited. The common council got excited. Cockroach extermination literature was studied, home remedies were discussed, and cockroaches became the subject of street-corner conversation.

A match was touched to the dump and after several days the heart of the cockroach habitat was burned out. Followed an odor, offensive and sleep disturbing. Then came the order of the council prohibiting any further dumping of garbage in the Lawrence-st fill or any other ravines in the city. This resulted in an influx of garbage to the Tracy farm such as Mr. Tracy never expected to see. The man he hired at $30 a month, to rake and burn the garbage, objected and quit. This seemed to be the straw that broke the camel's back, and the council, after sending out a man to take care of the dump (temporarily) came to the unanimous conclusion that now was the time to think with serious intentions on the purchase of an incinerator. The appointment of the committee named above was authorized, and their work will be the final result of the cause termed "garbage."

NEWSPRINT GROUP BREAKS OWN RULES, CHIEF SAYS; QUILTS

Members Scramble for Markets, Ignoring Agreement, He Declares

New York—(AP)—Col. John N. Price, chairman of the Newspaper Institute of Canada, announced his resignation today in a statement charging violation of the institute's rules by certain unnamed members. The institute was organized to outlast production and relieve a glutted market, his statement said. It operated as a pool and its members were supposed to abide by its rulings. Recently, he said, there has been a growing tendency among its members to "scramble for markets," disregarding the rules of the institute. "I have spared no efforts to promote to the best of my ability the interest of all companies belonging to the institute," his statement continued, "but I have become convinced that the expressed purposes of the institute and my efforts to accomplish them have been and are defeated by the unwillingness of members to conform to either the spirit or the terms of their membership agreement."

He said that his company, Price Brothers and Company, Limited, "now intends to adopt immediately whatever independence of policy and action it may be compelled to follow in order to protect its position and the interest of its stockholders."

The newspaper institute last spring announced an increase of the price of newspaper from $55 to $60 a ton. The announcement met with immediate opposition from the newspaper publishers' association.

After several conferences between publishers and manufacturers it was decided to suspend the proposed increase for the first six months of 1930 and this period has been extended until Jan. 1, 1931.

The action of Colonel Price on future price scales was problematical and publishers today were unable to discuss its significance or whether it presaged dissolution of the institute.

BLAME RACKETEERS FOR MILWAUKEE VANDALISM

Milwaukee—(AP)—Chicago labor racketeers today were believed responsible by officials of the employers' council for vandalism in a new apartment building here with damage estimated at $3,000. The move, officials made was interpreted as an attempt to drive non-union electrical shops out of the city.

Electrical fixtures and equipment on the ninth floor of the Park Lane apartment was destroyed. The electrical contract on the job was held by a non-union contractor, Evan P. Helffer, owner of the building, agreed with employers' council authorities to the cause of the destruction. Police blamed "small boys" for the affair.

A member of the council said it was known that a Chicago "organizer" had been operating in Milwaukee for some time.

"During the past three months," he said, "things have come to such a pass that Chicago men are running the show in so far as electrical business is concerned in Milwaukee."

While Milwaukee has generally been considered free from "racket," difficulties, the bombing of a small theatre and spilling of paint on another several weeks ago led police to investigate.

Sheboygan—(AP)—Ernest W. Schuit, president of the Sheboygan Hospital association, said a city drive would be launched soon for $250,000 needed to complete a contemplated new $550,000 hospital.

Celebrate All-College Day On Lawrence Campus

All-College day at Lawrence college was announced this morning when the ringing of the old main hall bell dismissed classes for the day. Shortly afterward the freshmen began forming in front of Brokaw hall, freshmen dormitory and the freshmen college day in the traditional freshmen snake dance. A 12-piece freshman band riding a green and white trimmed hay rack led the parade.

At 10:30 the inter-class tennis matches at Whiting field began. The junior team, composed of John Strange and Esther Schauer, defeated Hayward Elgers and Betty Wiley, senior representatives, 8 to 5. The freshmen-sophomore match was more closely contested, Negroes and Clemmens finally defeating Kirby and Burns, final representatives, 12 to 10. After lunch sophomores were to play the juniors for the mixed doubles championship of the campus. Dr. R. V. Landis and Prof. F. W. Clippinger were to oppose John Strange and Charles Barnes in an exhibition match during the afternoon.

The freshmen girls were leading the sophomore girls' ball team 5 to 4 at the end of the second inning. The freshmen seemed to have the Bay on Sept. 18, the federal agents had informed the men they were asking continuance of the cases and would not appear because of the grand jury session being held in Milwaukee.

However, when Watermelon called the case at Green Bay no one appeared. He continued it for an hour and a half and then dismissed the charges. Later he received a telephone call from the United States district attorney at Milwaukee asking that the case be continued to a later date.

That was impossible because of the dismissal and was followed by a statement from Milwaukee that the cases probably would be presented to the federal grand jury.

The federal grand jury completed its two weeks' session in Milwaukee Wednesday and announced 92 indictments. The jury was characterized by federal court attaches as "one of the toughest in years," more than 150 defendants being involved in the indictments, 80 of which were on probation law violation charges. About 70 of the cases came under the Jones "five and ten" law.

Speculation ran rife in Appleton and Outagamie-co Thursday as to whether any Appleton or Outagamie-co men charged with liquor law violations were among those indicted. Several Appleton persons are known to have been called before the jury during its session.

struction work was completed in 1889 and Dominican sisters were placed in charge when the school opened in September of that year. For the first eight years a high school department was conducted at the school but was abandoned because of lack of funds.

Columbia hall was erected in 1892 to provide a home for the social activities of the congregation. In recent years part of the building has been utilized to take care of the overflow from St. Mary school.

The golden jubilee of St. Mary parish and the silver jubilee of Father Fitzmaurice's ordination, to the priesthood were celebrated jointly on Sept. 18, 1911. The congregation at that time gave the pastor a gift of $30,000 which was used to complete beautification of the church.

Assistants soon were necessary to enable Father Fitzmaurice to carry on his work with the growing parish and the first of these was the Rev. M. H. Clifford who recently died in Oshkosh. He was succeeded by the Rev. George Clifford, his brother, now pastor of St. Patrick church at Menasha, and the closest of Father Fitzmaurice's intimates.

Other assistants assigned to St. Mary church since that time were: Reverend Michael Lauth, J. M. Chelney, Conrad Ripp, George A. Casper, A. Van Dyke, E. Vassler, Alois Schieler, James McGinley, F. R. Bankert, M. A. Hauch, now pastor of St. Theresa church, Adam Grill, W. Kiernan, N. Cross, and Leo Binder. Father Binder is the present assistant.

Two sisters of Father Fitzmaurice, Anna and Catherine, were his housekeepers from the time he was given his first pastorate until their deaths a few years ago. Miss Catherine was the first to die and she was followed a few years later by Anna. Since that time his housekeeper has been his niece, Mrs. Mary Tractet.

HEALTH FAILED

Father Fitzmaurice's health began to fail about three years ago when he was stricken with a heart affliction. Several times it was necessary to remove him from his altar as he was in the midst of services but he insisted on carrying on his duties. Last January, following his recovery from a severe illness, he went to California for a six weeks' visit, accompanied by his friend, Father Clifford. He appeared to be much refreshed after his return but he still suffered from periodical heart attacks.

Although he was a member of a large family, Father Fitzmaurice was the longest lived of his brothers and sisters. Survivors are the following nephews and nieces:

James Nachreiner, Fond du Lac; Dr. J. Nachreiner, Madison; Dr. M. Mathilde-Patterson, Stevenson; Mich. Mrs. Mark Tractet, Appleton; Miss Blanche Fitzmaurice, Chicago; Mrs. Walter M. Fitzmaurice, Chicago; Eugene M. Fitzmaurice, an ensign in the United States navy; Lawrence Fitzmaurice, Aurora, Ill.; Joseph Fitzmaurice, a student at St. Norbert College, De Pere.

Woman Juror Votes "No" After Approving Written Verdict of Guilty

The trial of Alex Kielgas, Appleton youth charged with abduction of a 16-year-old Berlin girl in August, was declared a mistrial and a written verdict of guilty set aside in circuit court for Waushara-co late Wednesday afternoon, when one of the jurors, a woman, voted "no" as the poll of jurors was taken in open court. The jury had deliberated the case for 22 hours when it returned with the written verdict.

Kielgas is at liberty on $1,000 bond until District Attorney Gad Jones decides whether he will have the case placed on the April calendar of circuit court. Judge Byron Parks, Stevens Point, presided.

Alex Kielgas and Elmer DeNoble, both of Appleton, and two other local youths were arrested Aug. 13, by local police on charges of kidnapping the girl. The girl, who is 16 years old, was taken from her home in Berlin, and the two boys, whose names were not made public, were dismissed when the preliminary hearing was held and DeNoble and Kielgas held for trial in circuit court. The former was dismissed by Judge Parks after the state finished presenting its case.

The girl went to a dance at Tustin the evening of Aug. 10. During the evening she met Kielgas and went out to his car with him. Her father, who was seeking the 16-year-old girl at the request of her parents, the two boys, whose names were not made public, were dismissed when the preliminary hearing was held and DeNoble and Kielgas held for trial in circuit court. The former was dismissed by Judge Parks after the state finished presenting its case.

Testimony indicated that she wanted to go to Appleton with Kielgas. He said he refused and took her to Berlin. No effort was made to leave her at Berlin, however, and the couple continued through to Appleton.

Monday, Aug. 11, the girl is said to have hidden in Kielgas' car near a garage where his delivery truck was kept. In the evening she went out with two other Appleton boys. The next day she returned to Kielgas' car and was found there by police.

STILL SEEK CLEWS OF BANK BANDITS

County Authorities Ask Northern Sheriffs to Look for Hold-up Men

With bank officers still checking their books to determine the loss to the Bank of Kaukauna, when four hold-up men rushed in last Tuesday and scooped up cash in the cages and vault, state bankers' association investigators started working on the case. Outagamie-co authorities have asked northern county sheriffs to look for the bandits in their sections.

Bank officers were unable to start checking their losses Wednesday because most of the day was spent giving testimony to insurance investigators and to A. M. Devoursper, the state bankers' association investigator. The loss is expected to run between $40,000 and $50,000, and probably more.

Sheriff John Lappen and Assistant District Attorney Oscar Schmieg still are working on the case seeking clews. They have asked sheriffs in the northern part of the state to look for suspicious characters and an automobile answering the description of that used by the bandits. The county authorities are of the opinion that the bandits may be hiding around some of the northern Wisconsin lake resorts.

Sweet Crooning Brings Discord To Radio Idols

BY GILBERT SWAN

New York—Whatever discords may have crept into the croon-contest, staged across the nation during the summer months by Will Osborne and Rudy Vallee, they are now in harmony on one point—

Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown!

Both are pursued at the moment by a "most inharmonious set of circumstances and whether or not they are 'vagabond lovers' there is a suggestion of the most croonful of Vallee tunes in their lives as lived beyond the megaphone.

Take young Osborne, for instance: Just the other day he announced his engagement to the shapely and lovely holder of the "Miss America" title, who is otherwise Miss Margaret Eklund.

Osborne insists that he is serious about this; that he really would like to marry the beauty prize winner.

OTHERS WOODED, TOO? But hardly had his announcement found its way to the press when up popped several other charming young ladies with statements concerning how they had been wooed by both his songs and himself.

There was a certain Miss Phyllis Carroll who told of a hasty marriage, of eight days, or some such short space of time and then resulted in an annulment. There was, it also seems, a first Mrs. Osborne who was divorced and a charming model by the name of Dorothy Crabtree, who insisted that she expected to find a wedding ring on her finger almost any day and was disturbed no end by hearing he intended to wed another.

And if he does—well, there's always the chance of a heart-balm action.

On the other hand, you have the young and handsome Mr. Vallee, whose voice has launched a thousand shipments of fan mail and who is adored by gray-haired old ladies and youngsters alike.

It's getting so that what with court actions and law suits and all the other difficulties that arise when one becomes rich and famous, he has been running from one lawyer's office to another in between broadcasting engagements, recordings and personal appearances.

In addition to all such woes as pursuing a national figure, Vallee is just managing to disentangle himself from the suit of pretty Agnes O'Laughlin, one time Zigfield beauty who wanted $200,000 for a broken heart.

CLAIMED RUDY'S LOVE—She appeared on the scene just about the time that the original Rudy Vallee was taking divorce steps in the middle west. She stated that Rudy had used his most plaintive tones in pouring his soul out to one of the more popular Manhattan night resorts.

"He told me he loved me and was mad about me," the actress stipulated. "He asked me to marry him and I became the hapless girl in the world."

But Rudy decided to talk back and not in any crooning tones. What he had to say was harsh and practical. Just a few days ago he filed a court motion demanding a bill of particular—insisting on a showdown. Where had he promised to marry her? And when?

Somewhat, whatever happened in the interim, Miss O'Laughlin appeared to back down slightly thereafter and is reported as having withdrawn her action. On the heels of the came a report that Rudy had fallen afoul of gangsters, who extracted $10,000 after threatening to furnish him.

All these harrowing events seem to have taken out of the pattern of soft voiced young man who carries the microphone. However, harmonious may seem their discords when next you hear them—two weeks just out side the broadcasting station.

J. G. ROSEBUSH TO ATTEND "Y" MEETING

ROAD COMMITTEE LOOKS AT SURVEY JOB ON ROUTE 41

Engineer's Report Will Determine if Fence Lines Are Within Right of Way

The county highway committee met this afternoon in the county to inspect the surveying job on Highway 41, which is being completed by E. M. Charlesworth, Kaukauna engineer. The survey was ordered by the county board to determine whether farmers had built fence lines within the right of way and if any such fence lines are found the farmers will be ordered to set them back immediately. The highway committee has received several complaints stating that the right-of-way of Highway 41 is not properly laid out and this survey is being made to determine whether there is any ground for these complaints.

While on the tour the committee will investigate a proposal to widen the intersection of Highway 41 and 55 on Lawest in Kaukauna. Since Highway 55 is being rerouted over a new road the highway committee feels the intersection with Highway 41 needs to be widened to insure greater safety for motorists. The committee has already purchased enough land on the south side of the intersection and it is now considering buying land along the north side. If the negotiations are completed the widening will be done this fall.

APPLETON TEACHER BACKED FOR OFFICE

Miss Blanche McCarthy Is Advocated for President of State Body

Letters advocating the election of Miss Blanche McCarthy, history teacher in Appleton high school, as president of the Wisconsin Teachers' association have been sent to all superintendents and principals throughout the state. The Appleton Teachers' association at its opening meeting last week went on record for Miss McCarthy for the next state president.

Miss McCarthy, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, has taught in the Neillsville, Hudson and Appleton schools. She is president of the history teachers' section of the Wisconsin Teachers' association, a member of the delegate assembly and of the executive committee of the state association, is president of the Appleton branch of the American association of University Women, a member of the Appleton Teachers' council and has fought for the retirement law at state legislative hearings.

Inasmuch as during the past few years the superintendents of schools, principals, vocational directors, county superintendents and principals of county training schools have been represented by the election of one of their group to the presidency, it is felt that in all fairness this year the president of the association should be selected from the class room group.

CREWS BATTLE DUMP FIRE FOR TWO HOURS

A crew of firemen spent two hours and a half Wednesday afternoon fighting a renewal of the blaze in the Superior-st. dump. A line of hose was laid from College-ave and a column of water played continuously for more than two hours on the fire smoldering deep underneath the debris. The alarm was sent in about 4 o'clock and the firemen returned to the station house about 6:30.

VALLEY CITIES PLAN MUSIC FETES AGAIN

Tri-city music festivals will be held again this year by Appleton, Oshkosh and Green Bay high school musical organizations, under the auspices of the Fox River Valley Music Festival association, of which H. H. Helble, local principal, is manager and treasurer.

Starting in January, three concerts will be given in each city, with the high school principal of the school at which the concert is given manager of the concert. As last year, all performances will be cooperative rather than competitive, and will afford an opportunity for the glee club, orchestra and band of each school to appear. Each concert will be made up of orchestra and band music and choral work.

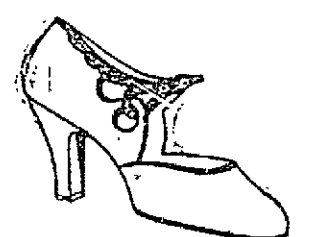

The music festival plan of presenting high school musical organizations was inaugurated last year in an attempt to offset the growing competition among high school musical organizations. In addition it was felt the concerts would promote a better understanding and appreciation of music in the communities, as well as affording the high school musical organizations an opportunity to appear often in public.

AMERICA SHOULD RETALIATE

Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm board believes that the gambling operations of the Russian Soviet on the Chicago Board of Trade in which millions of bushels of wheat that it had no way of delivering were sold short, were a factor in beating down the price of American wheat. From the information he possesses he is of the opinion that these transactions were a part of a conspiracy to accentuate economic distress in other countries, particularly the United States. There are other facts to support this view. Russian wheat today is being offered in European markets at prices below even the depressed levels in Winnipeg and Chicago.

The Soviet is preparing to dump grain in France and other countries of Europe to such an extent as to prevent or greatly reduce the volume of American export sales. The Soviet can do this because it produces wheat at very little cost. According to an American engineer who has returned to France after a long stay in Russia, the Soviet is driving huge armies of virtual slaves at a mankilling pace in order to flood the world wheat markets with low priced grain. The independent Russian peasant has been practically stamped out. Most of them have been forced into government controlled community farms. The workers are paid $30 per month and less, but they cannot buy anything with the money. They are not allowed to keep any grain for their own use and bread is rationed in meager quantities.

In the light of this and other information of the kind, the significance of the Russian government's short selling of wheat on the Chicago Board of Trade seems clearly to be part of a huge plot to spread discontent throughout the world. There ought to be some way to combat this senseless and damaging policy. The nations against which it is chiefly directed can for instance by legislation or order close their ports to the dumping of any and all Russian commodities. It is a game at which two can play as well as one, and since Russia does not hesitate to use any means at her disposal to irritate, annoy and injure other nations, there is no good reason why they should not give her a dose of her own medicine.

The world knew before the great war that the great body of Russian people were hopelessly low in the scale of civilization, otherwise they would not have submitted to the oppression of the czarist regime for centuries, but it has taken bolshevism with its ruthless despotism, its war on religion and its enslavement of its subjects, body and soul, to reveal the true status of the moujik and the Russ worker. No people with self-respect and impregnated with the desire to better their lot could submit to such chicanery, abasement and tyranny. If they had even a glimpse of enlightenment and pride they would rise up in their might and take things in their own hands. With them it has been a transition from one despotism to another. Lacking leadership, of which they have been deprived by the wholesale slaughter of intellectuals, they are content to exist in shameful degradation and want. That the rest of the world should be imposed on by the adventurers who are exploiting the helpless and hapless Russian people is preposterous.

WILD ANIMALS ON THE LOOSE

Something very unusual seems to be going on in the animal world. The latest news from South Africa tells how a lion chasing an antelope across the veldt, leaped directly into a tourist's automobile. Fortunately, he promptly leaped out again, so that nobody was hurt.

Just before that the dispatches related that a man in Quebec, attacked by a bear, beat the animal off with his fists. And just before that we were assured that an Ontario woman was carried off by another bear, to be released when her screams vexed the animal beyond endurance.

All of this is interesting and somewhat puzzling. Something unusual, assuredly, is going on in the animal world—or in the minds of newspaper correspondents.

NEED MOUNTED POLICE

Another bold and successful bank robbery has occurred in this locality when something like $50,000 in cash and securities was obtained in a hold-up of the bank of Kaukauna. The crime was perpetrated during business hours and when a number of customers were in the bank. There has been an epidemic of bank robberies in the central west for some time. According to statistics compiled at Chicago, there is an average of one holdup daily during the month of September. Wisconsin has had its full share of these raids. In a few instances the bandits have been captured and some of the money recovered, but in the majority of cases they have gone scot free and the sums taken were a total loss.

According to the politicians of Wisconsin who dominate its affairs, it is better to go on this way than to take measures that might be effective in suppressing banditry and protecting property. They object to the creation of mounted police on the specious contention that the police would be used to intimidate labor and break up strikes. Everyone knows the reasons for which they are opposed are groundless. They are employed simply to create distrust and misunderstanding between employers and employees and to make political capital.

Mounted police are just as essential to the protection of life and property in the counties and the state at large as are police in the cities. Other states maintain them without using them against labor, and with excellent results. By the time a sheriff's posse is organized and on the scene most bandits are far away to safety. According to the views of some politicians, banks and other institutions with money are the legitimate prey of anyone who can relieve them of their funds. We presume that view is to continue to obtain in Wisconsin.

DEEPER THAN BEER

Rep. Leonadis C. Dwyer of Missouri predicts that President Hoover's law enforcement commission will recommend beer of 2.75 per cent alcoholic content. He may be right, and he may be wrong. We should not be surprised at anything the commission recommends except repeal of the eighteenth amendment. It would depend to a certain extent upon what the commission believes to be feasible of attainment and its social, economic and political effects.

It is said that a number of dyes are reaching the opinion that 2.75 per cent beer might be a politic concession, on the theory that it would lessen resistance to the eighteenth amendment and give greater effect to the dry movement in other fields. The results from legal beer of this alcoholic content are wholly problematical. In most localities such beer is on tap, but it does not seem to decrease the business of the bootleggers in hard liquor. To be sure some of this beer is of a poor quality but it may well be argued that beer would not satisfy the most flagrant offenders of prohibition. These are of the class who pay from $80 to $100 a case for whisky and buy gin by the "car load." Nothing but stuff with a real kick in it satisfies this great army of loyal and persistent drinkers.

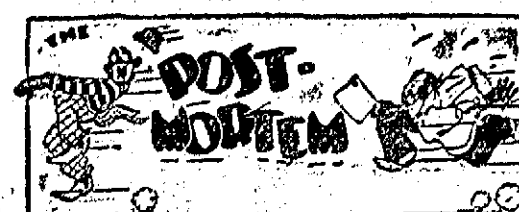

Beer with a little more alcohol in it would not seem to us to be the solution of the prohibition problem. It goes deeper than this. If the eighteenth amendment is fundamentally wrong palliatives are not going to suffice. Its mistakes cannot be remedied by a handout which leaves the real grievance unsatisfied. There is still a lot of superficial and insincere thinking on prohibition, reflecting itself in proposals of half-way measures and the devices of politicians to get votes.

A FAKED panic telegram sent the wheat market to the cleaners the other day... dawdled, just when things began to look a bit rosier, somebody has to come along and spoil everything... since Russia is supposedly at the bottom of the present wheat slump, it isn't hard to suppose that the gentle hand of the soviet was behind the telegram which sent the price down even further... why the dickens couldn't these bandits have held up the Kaukauna bank in the morning? ... then we could have had something in the column about it yesterday... gloom...

How to Dress Young Hopeful

It is quite essential to procure a baby for this process. If one is not available, a mamma doll will do, but the effects are not as realistic. Place the baby on some flat surface where he will have a good opportunity to elude your well-meant endeavors. Then proceed to remove your apparel. Dispose of them without delay. Next, procure a fresh square of cloth, folding it down to fit and appear to good advantage. Even at this age, young men and women, commonly known as babies, should be careful of the style and fit of their clothes. Proceed to pin clothing around baby's legs—at least two yards of safety pins are used in the best of families. If baby is obstinate about remaining quiet, use one hand to hold him down while working rapidly with the other. If youngster protests vocally during this period, place fist (baby's) in his mouth or threaten him future feeding. Either is good. Baby is now ready to be placed back in crib to sleep for another four hours, if the spirit is willing. If not, the next four hours may be spent in rocking.

Today's Anniversary

THE S-51 TRAGEDY

On Sept. 25, 1925, the worst submarine disaster in the history of the United States Navy occurred when the U. S. submarine S-51 sank near Block Island, off the Rhode Island coast, after it had collided with the passenger steamer, City of Rome. Thirty-four members of the submarine's crew perished; three were rescued.

The accident occurred at about 10:30 at night. Captain Dietrich of the City of Rome said that the S-51 sank in about 15 seconds, and that after he had drifted over the spot where it went down for an hour, in hopes of picking up survivors, he proceeded to port.

For this action he was severely criticized. It was the popular contention at the time that he should have stayed by for a longer period, preferably until daylight.

Although rescue ships were rushed to the scene of the tragedy, efforts to raise the sunken submarine failed day after day, until hope of bringing any of the imprisoned men to the surface alive had been abandoned. When the submarine was finally raised it was found that the crew had drowned and had not died of suffocation.

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

SOME PEOPLE ALWAYS BOIL THE BEANS.

Any of us may, in a thoughtless moment, spill the beans. That is one of the hazards of life. But what keeps me—well, as I usually am—is the way so many of our readers insist on boiling the beans.

For instance, a Birmingham reader writes:

"I am 77 years young. I have taken a cupful of flaxseed tea every evening for the past 9 days with no benefit, in fact I am still as constipated."

Which reminds me of the fellow who, making a heated confession of his rather long list of major and minor sins, was instructed to do real penance—no walk seven miles with beans in his shoes. He filled his shoes with beans and started out earnestly enough, but after the first three blocks, he stopped, in to his friend's place and gave the beans a thorough boiling before proceeding on the pilgrimage.

Evidently our Birmingham friend has Ben Todd! I advise a cup of flaxseed tea every night as a cure for constipation or the constive habit.

I have never suggested any such thing. Let this be an example to other readers or friends or readers who cite me as authority for this or that, my teachings are often so changed in meaning that I fail to recognize them when correspondents tell me they note I said so and so. Often I have to puzzle over the files of copy for many weeks back in order to find out what I actually said that could have been so oddly misinterpreted by the reader.

As though that were not enough, some of my medical colleagues who dislike my frankness, delight to distort and misrepresent my teachings for the purpose of ridiculing them if they can or at least shaking the confidence of readers in what I teach.

This flaxseed tea case is not an isolated one. From the time I first suggested the use of flaxseeds, not as a physic, not as a cure for constipation, but merely as an aid in breaking the physic habit, every day's mail has contained several inquiries about "your flaxseed cure"—and when this sort of thing is multiplied in spite of my repeated specific directions here, I get just a wee bit—well, you know. Well, everybody knows my great weakness.

Now, folks, here it is again, and this time I beg you to cut it out and paste it in your scrapbook or somewhere, and when you find yourself tempted to tell anybody what Dr. Brady says about flaxseeds, just show 'em the original item and well all be so much happier.

Anyone who has the physic habit, the habit of constipation and particularly when this condition borders on spastic or mucous colitis, will find the daily use of whole raw flaxseeds helpful—once or twice daily, whenever convenient, take from a rounded teaspoonful to a heaping tablespoonful of the flaxseeds, washing them down with water or other beverage, or mixing them with a breakfast cereal if you wish, or mixing them with some jelly to help you swallow them. That's all there is.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Well, He Looks Natural.

How is a person affected who has heart trouble? I have a pounding in my heart if I get excited and sharp pains when I sleep over (Mrs. L. R.)

Answer—It would be sad to guess you have heart trouble if there is nothing really the matter with your heart wouldn't it? And it would be even sadder, if you actually have some heart disease, to fool around with self treatment while it progresses from bad to worse. So, why not cut yourself a piece of—I mean why not consult a physician about it?

Call Us For Callus Cure.

Please advise me something to place a large callus on the ball of the foot or something to get rid of it. (F. B.)

Answer.—The old reliable corn remedy is best—thirty (30) grains of salicylic acid dissolved in one-half (1) ounce of flexible collodion. Paint callus with this once daily for a week or longer. Keep the corn medicine tightly stoppered, else the alcohol and ether of the collodion will evaporate and you'll find your medicine gone gummy. In that quandary, toddle back to the druggist and see if he will not add a spot of ether and alcohol to dissolve it again. Besides the corn medicine, cut a thick velvet pad of felt or make one of several layers of adhesive plaster, the general share of the callus, and wear it in your insole lengthwise, to support the transverse arch of the foot. Your shoemaker may build a soft leather pad into the insole for you.

Blue Blood in This Family.

I am a high school student, and I have been taught that the blood in the veins is blue and that it becomes red in the arteries because it has been in contact with oxygen. My mother was taught the same thing. I can't understand why there should be two theories about this. (D. A.)

Answer.—The other theory being my intuition that the blood in the veins is red? It always looks red to me, and I am not color blind. The blood in the arteries is a brighter red. I agree that veins show blue thru the skin, but the blood in them is normally dark red, even in the best of families.

Cataract.

Some time ago you had an article about the treatment of cataracts. I should like to know what you think of the removal of the capsule as well as the lens, and the so called Smith operation. (L. T.)

Answer.—I believe the best modern oculists follow Smith's method, or try to. I am not able to advise you, further than to say that oculists now operate successfully without waiting until the patient is nearly blind. (Copyright John F. Dille Co.)

The Tinymites

By Hal Cochran

ALL of a sudden came a shot. The Travel Man said, "It's not as that it is the signal for the big parade. 'Twil soon begin."

The fine canes that look so grand will coast right by the judge's stand. Now, if we want to enter in this stunt, let's join right in.

"They'll have some prizes for the best and our canoe is nicely dressed with pretty, brilliant lights. Perhaps we have a chance to win. I'll leave it to you to take today and do exactly as you say. Please hurry now. Make up your minds." This made the Tinymites grin.

"You bet!" cried Scouty. "We are game. If we don't win 'twil be a shame, but anyway we'll have the fun of paddling along. We'll paddle neat as neat can be and wave to people that we see." Then Clowny cried, "I'll paddle 'cause I'm feeling good and strong."

It wasn't long till the parade was on its way. The Tinymites made a very good impression. Folks applauded long and loud. Then when the stunt was over, they took first prize and all cried, "Hurrah!" The first prize was a great big cake. It made them all feel proud.

That night they ate the cake and gee, it was as sweet as it could be. When they turned in to bed they dreamed of sweet things by the score. Next morning Mister Travel Man into the Tinymites' bedroom ran. Cried he, "We're going to Lucerne. And they soon were on their way."

It didn't take them long to ride to Lucerne. There two Clowny cried, "Oh, my, we're on another lake. And look! A great big tower. Now, first of all, let's walk around and see the sights that can be found. The town is not so big and we can do it in an hour."

Seen And Heard In New York

BY RICHARD MASSOCK

New York.—Broadway's a cheap and odd way.

It's a pretty flash the first time you step around the Forty-second street corner and look north at the mazelike girl in the incandescent swing, traveling back and forth across the front of a chewing gum sign.

There's a real thrill—the first time. Then, when one has rubbed the yellow and blue and orange and red and white lights out of his eyes, he sees what it really is.

Cafeterias, downstairs, chow-meineries, upstairs, their jazz bands, dipping through amplifiers. ... Booteries and lingerie shops. ... Haberdashery stores and pineapple drink stands.

Stands selling out-of-town newspapers. ... Schools of Beauty Culture. ... "Sgt. Frank Poulos, Physical Culturist." ... Pawn shops and jewelry auctions.

Florists and theater ticket agencies making playgoing a luxury. Used cars cheap. ... Roseland dance hall. ... The Blue Kitchen. ... Clear stores and Gray's, where the out-hate ticket counter is.

The clearest factory in a corner window. ... The news flashes moving in a continuous ribbon around the Times building. ... Part of the free show of Broadway.

And a talking picture in every block, their signs outshining the animated jumble of lights that blink and wink and blaze up in a jerky, jazz rhythm on top and down the sides of offices.

That's Broadway.

HATTER-BATTER

It is in the midst of all this that Babe Ruth has opened his snappy hat shop. His neighbors in the same block are a waffle counter, a hole-in-the-wall sheet-music dispensary that plays the newest hits of Tin Pan alley with raucous monotony and a two-bit snap-your-own-photograph gallery.

We happened to be passing just before the shop was unveiled and stopped to watch with the crowd that swarmed waiting for the Babe to pull the canvas curtains off the sign that runs across the top of the windows.

It was a long wait, but the ubiquitous celebrity-gazers, mostly men, were patient. Presently Ruth, the home-running haberdasher, arrived in a limousine, a motorcycle police escort in front clearing the way with screaming sirens.

The curtains were cut down. Out of the hidden amplifier broke the familiar cheeriness of Graham McNamee's voice. He was telling the sidewalk crush about the various sports celebrities who were inside helping Babe set himself up in the shirt and hat business.

Suddenly a woman's voice behind us asked, "Who is Babe Ruth?"

We let that be our cut to walk away into the flaring night of Broadway anonymity.

HOW RUDE WE ARE

Overheard in the subway (a girl with a drawl speaking): "There are no gentlemen in New York."

And in a Harlem cabaret: "New Yorkers are maniacs mad with speed."

BARBS

So long as our Chinese are having it out in tong wars, it seems most of us will have to keep our shirts on.

The world's gold supply, it is announced, is fast disappearing. And it is pretty well recognized that the dentists are having their fill.

A BYSTANDER IN WASHINGTON

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington—It's a far cry from freight rates to Jacopo Peri's opera "Orpheus," but a member of the Interstate Commerce commission bridges the gap very nicely.

Clyde B. Aitchison, interstate commerce commissioner, turns to music when he wants to forget the irritations of silica sand rates scales and other things having to do with railroads.

One has only to hand him his silver flute or a musical score to effect the transition.

Commissioner Aitchison is, per haps, official Washington's most celebrated musician.

His flute, his baton and his ability as a composer have made him almost as well known in the capital as his position on the Interstate Commerce commission.

With his silver flute he has "topped" for himself a reputation that compares favorably with real masters of this instrument.

HIS MUSIC SPEAKS

As a composer his works speak for themselves.

The conversion of the invocation of Eurycleide in Peri's opera "Orpheus"—the first complete opera ever written—into a choral harmonized in the old style has delighted music lovers in four of the largest cities in the east. And his version of Old Sweetheart, is just as popular.

And there are others from his pen. But as a conductor Commissioner Aitchison is known the best.

Down at the Interstate Commerce commission on Pennsylvania avenue he has built up a male chorus of some 40 voices which is recognized as one of the best organizations of its kind in Washington. It is called the Interstate Commerce Male Chorus and is composed of examiners and other employees of the commission.

Aitchison got the idea for this chorus back in 1919. Two marble tables in memory of those in the commission who lost their lives in the world war were to be dedicated. A call was sent out in the commission for all who could sing to be present.

So impressed was Aitchison with the voices he heard on that day that he determined to organize his chorus.

NO WOMEN NOW

At first women were included, but it was soon made into an all-male organization.

The Interstate Commerce male chorus, under the personal direction of Commissioner Aitchison, is now in its tenth season. Twenty-eight formal concerts have been given since it was started.

President and Mrs. Coolidge had them at the White House to sing at the memorial services this year to the dead. They have been heard in concert at the Library of Congress. They have sung in Washington, Philadelphia, New York and Baltimore.

POLICY OF CHEAP MONEY HITS SHORT TERM CREDIT RATE

Banks Almost Give Away Cash in Effort to Employ Their Funds

BY PRESTON S. KRECKER
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press
Wall Street, New York—Cumulative effects of the cheap money policy of the federal reserve board have precipitated something akin to a money market. Banks are almost giving money away in their anxiety to find employment for surplus funds.

Time money is lending at 2 to 2 1/2 per cent, according to maturity. Call money is reported to have loaned as cheaply as 1 per cent over the counter while federal reserve funds, which are credit available to member banks only, were said to have been loaned at one-half of one per cent.

One must hark back some 20 years to match such rates in Wall Street. Until this week money had held up to the level of 1924, but the market has broken through that to about the 1910 low level.

The federal reserve policy, of course, is not the sole reason for the fact that short term credit commands the lowest interest rates in 20 years.

VARYING FACTORS
The decline of approximately 15 per cent in commodity prices during the last 12 months has quite a bit to do with it. The depression in business also is partly responsible. Nor should net importations of upwards of $200,000,000 gold since the first of the year be overlooked as a factor.

A conservative estimate is that each dollar of monetary gold imported into the country means a potential increase of $10 in bank credit.

But, after all is said and done, the cheap money policy of the federal reserve board, which has resulted in the injection of nearly $450,000,000 of reserve funds into a market already glutted with money, is regarded by bankers as primarily responsible for the fact that they cannot command a better price for their short term funds.

Some bankers think that money in Wall Street would yield 4 per cent but for reserve policy.

It is an open secret that commercial bankers are far from pleased with the turn of affairs. Their business is lending money and naturally they desire to obtain as large a return as they reasonably can. From 1 1/2 to 2 per cent, with a maximum of 2 1/2 per cent, for commercial papers is not their idea of a fair price for the commodity they handle.

HELPS LONG CREDIT
The federal reserve policy, as is now well understood, is to help the long term credit market, which for several years suffered at the expense of short term money. In other words the reserve board is trying to help the bond market by forcing banks to buy bonds and is succeeding. Banks are buying bonds because they cannot obtain a fair revenue from their funds in any other way under existing conditions, but they are unwilling buyers.

Bankers who criticize the reserve policy comment that commercial banks should not be driven into the bond market. They contend that many commercial bankers are poor judges of bonds, with the result that they frequently tie up their liquid funds in securities which they cannot resell except at a loss. Eventually when trade and industry require such funds, they are frozen and unavailable.

On the other hand there is no question that investment bankers welcome the federal reserve policy because it is resulting in diversion of capital, including commercial bank funds, into the bond market. They feel that the commercial banker had his opportunity last year when he was able to earn as much as 24 per cent on demand funds and, until the market crash, rarely got less than 8 per cent, while bonds went begging and investment banker, almost starved.

There is a certain amount of common sense in that contention. It is desirable that long term credit be made more attractive to capital in order that necessary financing may be done on reasonable terms. Matters have a way of evening up in the long run. If money is too cheap now, that eventually will correct itself over a period of time.

SEVEN CONFESSIONS IN BIBLICAL LEBANON

Beirut, Syria—(P)—Biblical Lebanon, Asia's only Christian state and the smallest one in the world, has seven different confessions among its 256,618 inhabitants, according to the last census.

In addition, there are 20,448 emigrants of this faith in the United States who still pay taxes to homeland. They form one of the oldest Christian churches. Its history goes back as far as the fourth century, retaining dramatic as the church language. Since the middle ages, the Maronites have recognized the pope, although they have a patriarch of their own.

BEAUTY SHOP RACKET BEGUN IN CHICAGO

Four Men Under Arrest in Effort to Check New Threat of Violence

Chicago — (P)—A vigorous police message was prepared today for beauty shop racketeers.

Four men are under arrest. Police construe the actions of these men in attempting to organize beauty shop owners as a plot to extort $30,000 in "initiation fees" and $18,000 a month in dues.

There are approximately 9,000 beauty shops in Illinois. The plot, as police declare it, was to compel those shop owners to join the "Master Beauty Shop Owners' association," paying $10 initiation fee and $2 a month in dues thereafter. Threats of bombs and other violence were the clubs held over the heads of the shop owners to force them into the organization.

One of the four under arrest, Emery T. Erickson, was said to be secretary of the beauty shop owners' organization. After state's attorney's men had questioned the four at length last night, orders were issued for the immediate arrest of Pete (Dynamite) Cuniff and Ray H. Williams.

In records seized at Erickson's home police reported finding a check made in favor of Peter von Frantz, sometimes called the "gangland armorer" by the reason of the sale from his sporting goods store of weapons to gangsters. The check, Erickson said, was in payment for a tear gas gun.

The Story of Sue
by MARGERY HALE
© 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE ringing of the telephone by Corrinne's bed had interrupted the letter which she was writing to Sue. She picked the receiver up, wondering who could be wanting her now, hoping that there was excitement, adventure, something in the air.

"Corrinne?" The dancing, breathless voice at the other end of the line belonged to one of the girls in the gay, younger set at the hotel.

"Want to touch the stars tonight and sit on the moon?" grand? Then slip into a heavy coat and meet us in the lobby in five minutes. We're off to Mars!"

"But what?"

"My brother's a pilot and his ship is in tonight... a passenger ship... so I've coaxed him to take us up. He can get it for us at reduced rates. There'll be a dozen of us. And we'll dance among the stars. Hurry, Corrinne!"

Corrinne sat on the edge of the bed and swung a slim white leg for a long second. Then she tossed the slip into a heavy coat and met us in the lobby in five minutes. We're off to Mars!"

"It will make me look sweet and demure and innocent, and if the ship crashes Harry would feel worse if I looked that way than if I had worn something crimson and scanty," she told herself as she penciled her red lips.

She grabbed a white white polo coat, taking the advice of the girl who had called her, and picked up an ermine headed evening bag with the usual heavy articles in it.

She found two or three of her crowd on the elevator, excitedly talking about their plans.

"I've always wanted to fly at night," one of the girls said. "There's a portable phonograph, and we can dance and make love to the man in the moon."

Down in the lobby Corrinne looked around. Harry wasn't in sight. She went on the terrace and looked over the dancers. He wasn't there. Some inner impulse warned her to tell him what she was going to do. Finally, she left a note for him at the desk, and climbed into a waiting roadster to start to the airport.

"It looks misty," someone said. "Do you think it's safe?"

"Misty? The moon and stars are all out. Of course it is. Don't be a cloud," someone from the rumble approved.

A little feeling of uneasiness kept picking Corrinne. She talked and laughed continually in order to forget it. After all, she had left a note for Harry. She had even intended to ask him to go along, if he had been in. She wondered where he was.

At the airport there was excitement. Lights glowed across the field, beacons for ships that sailed the skies, and there was hurry and confusion.

Judith Melton, the girl who had planned the party, dragged Corrinne over to her brother. "I told him if he'd take us up, I'd let him have Pastor Harold Klein-hans, Jackson Drive Lutheran church, Oshkosh, will preach the sermon in the evening. The choir will sing, "The Cause is Thine" by Haydn, under the direction of Armin Albrecht.

Miss Erna Fuhrmann, soprano soloist, will sing two selections at the evening service, namely, "Spirit of God, Abide with Me," by Moore and "Some Day" by Risher. Miss Evelyn Bergman will play the organ accompaniment. The public is invited. A special offering will be taken for the mission work of the church at large. Women of the congregation are decorating the altar niche with flowers.

three dances with the prettiest girl in the party. And he chose you. His name is Bernard but we call him Punk."

"But, Judy, he can't dance; he has to fly," Corrinne said, when the pilot had turned back to his plane.

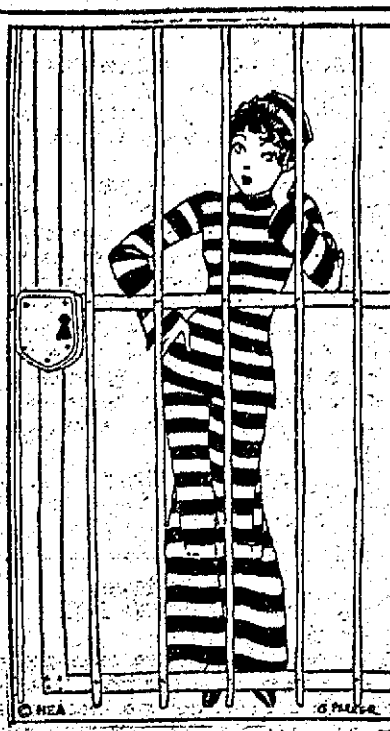

"Tommy's going along and he's a whizz of a pilot," she answered, indicating one of the men in the group. "They can change seats for a few minutes and Punk can keep his eyes open for trouble."

Corrinne's conscience was growing a little more troublesome.

"If you don't mind, I think I'll go back. I'm... tired," she said. "You mean scared," Judy supplied. Corrinne answered indignantly, "I'm not! Come on. Let's get going then!"

Mrs. George Gauslin was elected president of Rebekah Three Linns club at the meeting Wednesday afternoon at Odd Fellow hall. Other new officers are Mrs. Oscar Brues, vice-president; Mrs. Jessie Hayes, secretary; and Mrs. Norah McCarter, treasurer. Retiring officers include Mrs. G. E. Jackson, president; Mrs. Charles Miller, vice president; Mrs. Alice Ralph, secretary; and Mrs. George Gauslin, treasurer.

Plans were made for a picnic dinner to be served to members, their husbands and families on Oct. 8, at Odd Fellow hall. Outgoing officers of the club will be in charge of arrangements. A social hour followed the business meeting.

CHURCH GROUP HOLDS SOCIAL IN AUDITORIUM

About 59 members of the Brotherhood of Trinity English Lutheran church and women of the church attended the monthly social meeting Wednesday night in the sub-auditorium of the church. Prizes at games were won by Mrs. Arthur Luedtke and Harry Cameron and the team captained by the Rev. D. E. Bosserman won the dart ball game.

A talk was given by the Rev. Bosserman after which a lunch was served. Plans were made to attend the meeting of Brotherhoods of the Fox river valley next Monday night at Oshkosh. About five members from Appleton will go, including officers of the group and the pastor.

Hints For The Shopper

It is obvious that a rug must be of the right size and shape to meet the special needs, and that design and color must please the purchaser and harmonize with the surroundings.

When these elementary factors have been considered, there remains the vital question of material and workmanship. In the well-made rug, a fine quality of worsted yarn will be used, the weave will be close, and neither jute nor sizing will be needed to make good deficiencies in material or workmanship.

Solid colored carpets and rugs will give the impression of a mottled surface after some wear because the worn spots will catch the light differently from the rest of the pile.

TALKING MOVIES FOR HOME LATEST RADIO SENSATION

Introduction of New Device
Will Be Made in About Weeks

BY ROBERT MACK
Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
New York—(CPA)—Talking-movies for the home—the most sensational development in the entertainment realm in five years—will be introduced within a fortnight.
Radio set and accessory manufacturers, this writer learned authoritatively today, are going into mass production of home talkie apparatus just as soon as campaigns can be launched. Priced to sell in the neighborhood of $150, these outfits will give the popular home movies
a new life by the combination of a sound disc synchronized with the film.

Laboratory development of the home talkies has been closely guarded by the industry. Manufacturers however, including those outside the industry, decided upon its formal introduction at the radio world's fair,
now holding forth at Madison Square Garden.

IT'S STEALING SHOW
Home recording, basic radio's latest "gadget" contribution, which along with "clock-tuning" is stealing the show here, evidently will pale into insignificance because of the home talkie development. The industry is working on actual home
talkie production, which now is possible, but not practicable.

The new apparatus is for home exhibition only. The machine is a perfectly synchronized combination of home projectors and a new synchronous phonograph, this writer learns. "Circulating library" arrangements for the procurement of the home talkie films are being made, so that the exhibitor has but to rent or buy a particular talkie for exhibition. The Eastman company is working on conjunction with certain manufacturers
in the film production.

The feature film is similar to that used by home movie projectors, having a width of 16 millimeters, or about four-tenths of an inch. Four hundred feet of this film is equivalent to 1,000 feet of standard theatre projection film—the normal length of a regular feature.

SUCCESS ASSURED Success of the home talkies seems virtually assured. The manufacturers are going into it "in a big way,"
one of the executives of a radio trade association said. Although not confined entirely to radio set and accessory manufacturers, the invasion of this home talkie field by the radio industry is regarded as another vital step in diversification in the industry.

For the presentation of a continuous home performance of a five reel feature two projectors will be required because the reel run off must be reloaded before the next reel can be shown with a single projector. Two movie projectors are employed in all "continuous show" movie houses, and eventually all of them now are "continuous shows."

The home talkies are an appropriate adjunct to radio and the radio industry. "The talkies are founded on radio principles and it is logical that this development should be within the radio laboratory and handled by the industry, it is pointed out by leaders in the industry.

[Now only television remains to complete the home entertainment field in immediate prospect.]

35 SAVED FROM BARREN ROCK AFTER OVER MONTH

Brisbane, Australia—(P)—For more than a month 35 Kanakas, men, women and children, lived on Bird Island, an inhospitable outcrop of rock in the Banda sea. Their sole food was raw fish and their only drink was seabirds' blood.

The party had been crossing the Banda sea when their big war canoe was wrecked on the island upon which there is not a blade of grass and no living creatures except myriads of sea meves.

The Kanakas, almost deranged by their terrible privations, were rescued
by the China Australian liner Tai-ping which, fortunately for them, was blown out of her usual course and so passed near the island.

HUNTS DUCKS AND CAPTURES MESS OF PICKEREL IN POND

Oconto—(P)—William Boettcher, president of the village of Sturges, went duck hunting with a fish pole and caught a mess of pickerel.

Boettcher, with a party of friends, bagged four or five ducks. They dropped into the Chadron Falls pond. He cast a line, fly, hook and all, to retrieve the ducks. He landed one duck. When he threw the line out for a second, a pickerel grabbed the fly. Boettcher
continued casting for the ducks
—but caught nearly a dozen fish.

WE WOMEN

By Betty Brainerd

A "WONDERFUL" BOY
"Dear Betty Brainerd:
For two years I have been going with a wonderful young man. Nearly every Saturday night we meet at a dance. Sometimes he has only one dance with me and sometimes more,
if I ask him for them. Sometimes,
when he hasn't had money to pay his way into the dance, I have paid for him. He hasn't come for three Saturdays.

"He let me wear his watch for two weeks. I promised him a silver band for it. I have asked him to come to see me but he says he can't find where I live. He has no way to get around unless he comes with some friend. I have no way to get around either, unless my family take me. He lives in the next town and I have ridden over there several times but never seen him.

"He has broken two dates with me and I am nearly sick wondering what is the matter, for I love him so much. He is rather funny, and funny what he goes with. Please advise me what to do. I always show him a good time."

Where is your pride and self-respect? There is no affection in the world worth buying.
The only thing "wonderful" about
the boy is his power of deception.
Analyze his motives.

Sometimes he has only one dance with you and sometimes more—when you ask him for them.
Sometimes when he hasn't any money you pay his way into the dance. Does he ever pay your way?

He let you wear his watch for two weeks. You promised him a silver band for it. Can you see no significance in the two statements? Yet even the silver band is not sufficient inducement for him to keep his engagements with you. He is assured that you will be waiting for him, gift
in hand, whenever he chooses to call for it.

Street signs and traffic policemen notwithstanding, he "can't find"
where you live!
His behavior is not "funny" to any one but a girl blinded as you appear to be. To any disinterested person he appears contemptibly weak and vicious—an inhuman being who turns affection to mercenary advantage.

If you wish to plunge your life and future into a quicksand of frustration and despair, continue to allow this bloodless parasite to prey upon you. But if you have any ideals, to preserve or any hope of happiness dismiss him from your mind.

Most men halt at applying the cold
knife of barter to unselfish affection.
Open your eyes.

If you wish help with your problems, write to the author.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

OUTSIDE HELP SOMETIMES A HINDRANCE
When you hear a lecture, or a sermon, or a neighbor's conversation which treats of children do you immediately think, "There, I have made a mistake with Junior. I'll begin tomorrow morning and take a new way
with him."

Be careful. You may be right.
The chances are that you know more about Junior than anybody else knows and that this treatment that might work well with another Junior will not do at all for yours. Study your own child and deal with him as he is. Have faith in your own experience and follow it until you find that the result is not good.
Then study the child again, review
your course, and try again.

No two children are alike. What is more, no two households carry the same atmosphere and the atmosphere of home has a tremendous influence on its children. In one home there is a grandmother who is a super-mother. She comforts the children, slips in a little word of caution and
of guidance, binds up all wounds and cheers mother along. She inspires and leads a whole family to peace and spiritual happiness.

In another home there is a grandmother who is a constant care, another and a more difficult child because she will not try to help herself or anybody else. Immediately there is a vast difference between the attitudes of the children of the two homes. Carry this out through the complete membership of a family and it is clear that what will work well in one, who will be true for one, will not help at all in the other.

The members of the family are the forces of the immediate environment. They react upon the children.
Often they complain of the children's behavior when they are the cause of the poor conduct. In considering any phase of behavior we have to take the cause into consideration first. Change that, remove that and there is no need for punishment and rigid rules and harsh penalties. Give a child a chance to be good and he will be good, most of the time. He,

being human, will have his lapses,
but he is usually all right.

Before getting all excited about Junior then, suppose we think him over and determine how well he fits into his environment. Does he get on well with the folks about him?
Then he is doing very well. Does he obey often? Then he is doing very well. Does he do his work up to a standard that you can approve most of the time? Then he is doing very well. Does he do his work up to a standard that you can approve most
well. Does he do his work up to a standard that you can approve most
of the time? Then he is doing very well.

You see we are just ordinary people, no heroes about us. We are doing a daily job as well as we can.
No fireworks are expected from us.
Junior is one of us.

Consider the ways of those about him, consider his world and how well he manages to live in it, because of what you have done. Then take heart. You are probably right about him after all.

dicate, Inc.)

OIL INDUSTRY IN BETTER POSITION; SUPPLIES LOWERED

Consumption of Petroleum Products Gains at Same Time in Country

BY J. C. ROYLE
Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
Washington—(CPA)—Oils are boing above their surroundings just as petroleum is gushing to the surface in scores of wells. There has been a period of over-production.
That period is now past, according to present reports to government sources. The supplies have diminished while consumption of petroleum products has gained.

According to the bureau of mines,
the year 1930 to date has shown a marked improvement in the petroleum situation.
The bureau's economic analyst, G.
E. Hopkins, reports that production has shown a consistent decline while consumption has gained. While the stocks of petroleum products on hand have not declined so appreciably as production, because of the tremendous amount on hand, there is no longer behind them the constant additions which continuous over-production entailed.

Consumption in July, August and September topped all records, according to the most authentic figures. Stocks of gasoline still are above the point they touched a year ago, but the trend then was upward, whereas now it is in the opposite direction. Stocks which were around

50,000,000 barrels of gasoline on July 1, now are reduced to approximately 38,000,000 barrels.
RESTRICTION HELPED
The big factor in the changed situation has been production restriction in the United States. This has been followed by a corresponding decline in output from Central and South America. The South American situation is seeking a market in the United States. Those imports have been small so far, but the buying of Russian oil in the Near East and in Europe has affected markets previously held by American corporations.
The difficulty that the Russian producers face is in the length of the haul from the Caspian seaports to America. On the other hand, the corves or forced labor situation in the Soviet republics may counterbalance this.

The big factor in the situation,
however, is that the United States is the largest consumer of oil and that consumption within the country in the last seven months, 674-251,000 barrels of crude, gasoline and petroleum, is below the domestic output for the period and compares with 610,549,000 for the whole year 1929.
There is stronger competition than ever before in the retail sale of gasoline, but by-products and other industries carried by filling stations have permitted a margin which would justify the price cuts made in some sections.

"Vestpocket" Airplane To Be Carried By Submarine

Washington—(AP)—A vestpocket seaplane is being developed by the navy to supply an "aerial eye" for undersea fighters.

It will have folding wings and be stowed in a watertight compartment
flush with the submarine deck.
The plane will be a scout, a fast ship carrying only a pilot and to be used for extending the range of vision of the undersea boats for collecting information. Though no submarine has been designated for the experiment, it is planned to start tests with the tiny flier as soon as it is completed.

Modern types of undersea craft available for the construction of a special carrying compartment included the V-1, 2 and 3, of 1,900 tons
each and the V-4, 5 and 6, of 2,660 tons each. Their width varies from 27 1/2 to 33 1/2 feet.

In the new development, which has been undertaken to place at least one airplane on every ship in the battle line, the navy will draw on experiences of seven years ago when a submarine plane was built and tested.

A large cylinder was built on the deck of the S-1, a smaller cylinder than later types, for carrying the dismantled plane which was assembled for each flight. The scheme was abandoned as unsatisfactory.
Instead of the cylinder, which cut down the submarine's underwater
speed, it is planned in the new experiment to have a compartment under the deck with its top a part of the deck.

COUNCIL DECIDES TO RETAIN WATER, LIGHT COMMITTEE

Plans for Establishment of Commission Will Be Dropped for Time Being

Menasha—That establishment of a water and light commission in Menasha will be dropped temporarily was decided at a conference of the city council in the city offices Wednesday evening. The council, acting as a committee of the whole, discussed the matter for about four hours, finally deciding against definite action at the present time.

Although a straw vote taken earlier in the week showed six aldermen for the project and four opposed to it, the lack of a referendum vote based on a petition from Menasha voters was a vital factor in the decision to delay action. Aldermen opposed to it also maintained that insufficient research work had been done on the project and that further study should be made before the water and light plant, with a total valuation approaching a million dollars, be turned over to an inexperienced governing body.

Whether Menasha will displace the present water and light committee with a water and light commission has been hanging fire since former Mayor W. E. Held voted action by the council in that direction last February. In the spring elections, Menasha residents expressed themselves in favor of the commission by a vote of almost three to one but a petition from the voters on the subject has never been received in the council chambers.

Suggestions favoring the formation of a commission have been introduced to the city council by Alderman T. E. McGilgan, alderman of the First ward, who is leading the fight in that direction. Mayor M. G. Remmel has been compiling data for several weeks, based on commission activities in other cities, for application to the question in Menasha.

VERSAILLES TREATY MENACED BY HITLER

eral times warned him to cool down and to keep his answers on a conversational level. On the whole, however, his manner was dignified and restrained.

Cheered by a large throng of Fascists as he entered the building, Hitler still could hear his followers cheering and singing as he began his testimony, while inside there was a tendency in the crowded courtroom to applaud him which was sternly repressed by the judge, who remarked: "This is no theatre."

Hitler technically was called into court as a defense witness for three Reichswahr officers charged with high treason, but extraordinary interest was aroused because it gave him an opportunity to state the whole Fascist case before a listening Germany and world.

Again and again he stated with emphasis and emotion that he was planning no armed revolt. "We don't need an armed revolt," he said, "all we need is another election."

The sole purpose of the Fascist or additions to their farm homes or Hitler said, was to protect the Fascist movement against terrorist tactics of its opponents and it was never intended to be used against the armed forces of the republic.

Mention of the so-called Hitler putsch of 1923 by the presiding judge called forth a lengthy explanation of how the movement since then had been cleansed of its ultra-radical minority too prone to get away from the real aims of the movement. Even now, he admitted, there is a deep-seated group of Fascists "who like to play with the idea of revolt" but "they have broken with us and are no longer in the party."

The Fascist leader said that a movement comprising tens of thousands of young territorialist men could not be held responsible for individual utterances. He added that he had done everything to prevent his organization assuming a militaristic character despite the difficulties of enforcing a ban on carrying arms upon people who were naturally combative.

These difficulties, he concluded, were all the greater because the slogan of the first was "Stay Fascists wherever you find them."

Hitler said he had always been of the opinion that trying to undermine the Reichswahr was folly. "I think that would be a crime. I never made overtures to the Reichswehr."

That blood may flow once the Hitlerites are in power was admitted by the Fascist chieftain who declared passionately: "Whenever my party, by legal means shall have seized power, then there will also be constituted a new German supreme court. November, 1918, will then find its expiation and heads will roll."

Asked why he spoke of revolution so often, Hitler replied: "What other name can we give a movement which aims to overturn the present state and construct a new Germany on entirely new lines?"

LITTLE CHANCE FOR U. S. RECOGNITION OF SOVIET REGIME

Recent Russian Activities Push Possibility Far into Background

Washington (AP)—Ever present as a possible change in American foreign policy, the question of recognition of the Soviet government by the United States appeared today to have been pushed further into the background than at any other time since President Hoover took office.

As enunciated by Charles Evans Hughes when secretary of state, the American policy with regard to the Soviets was that a settlement must be made of official and private obligations of Russia to the United States and its citizens and the Soviet must cease the spreading of propaganda designed to overthrow American institutions. This policy was continued as that of the Coolidge and Hoover administrations.

At the time President Hoover took office was considerable speculation that the United States would recognize the Communist government. Prominent writers even went so far to predict that recognition would be extended within two years after inauguration day.

With the halfway mark of the Hoover administration term rapidly approaching, however, officials today remarked that the position of the two countries is probably further apart than at any period since 1922 when Ambassador Boris Bakme-tieff of the provisional government closed the old imperial embassy here.

During the past year, officials here remarked, there have been a steady procession of events which have tended to retard rather than help the cause of supporters of the Soviet in this country.

DELIBERATE AFFRONT

It was pointed out that the Soviet's reply to Secretary Stimson's plea for adherence to the principles of the Kellogg pact during the Chinese-Soviet difficulties was construed in high administration quarters as a distinct affront to the American government. In this instance, Secretary Stimson sought the cooperation of the signatories of the treaty to prevent what appeared to be imminent hostilities between the two countries. The Chinese government replied promptly with assurances while the Moscow government replied in what was considered by some officials to be a critical and almost satirical vein.

During the past twelve months publicity attending an investigation of Soviet propaganda and commercial activities in this country by a house committee of which Representative Fish, Republican, New York, is chairman, is considered by officials to have strengthened non-recognition sentiment.

Russian invasion of the American market with products ranging from matches to manganese has stirred much industrial and labor opposition to the Soviet regime this year, while recognitionists are considered by some here to have suffered in the furor over Russian speculative trading in the Chicago wheat pit.

The extent of Russian repudiated obligations to American citizens is estimated roughly at $400,000,000. There is also a $187,000,000 credit extended by the United States to the

Pedestrians Involved In Half Of Motor Accidents

Madison — Over half of the motor vehicle accidents involve pedestrians. The right to walk in safety on public highways is one of the most fundamental rights, but the advent of other traffic has required the pedestrian to give way to a certain extent. This is because it is easy for a pedestrian to stop, step aside or change his direction. Pedestrians were never seriously interfered with by other traffic until modern motor traffic became a factor. These are facts taken from a statement prepared by the State Highway Commission of Wisconsin.

"It is just as necessary for the pedestrian to walk safely as for the provisional government which followed the star and $86,000,000 of Russian bonds sold privately in this country.

motorist to drive safely," continues the statement. "When pedestrians are numerous a sidewalk on which vehicles are not allowed is a necessity. On most rural highways the cost of such a walk is too great, and it is, therefore, necessary for both pedestrians and motorists to observe certain rules that have been made for their mutual protection.

"The most fundamental of these is the one which directs pedestrians to walk on the left hand side of the road and to step off the traveled roadway is practicable when meeting a vehicle. The purpose of walking on the left hand side of the road is, of course, to give the pedestrian a better chance to view oncoming traffic.

"The most frequent pedestrians along country roads are children going to or returning from school. These children very often go in groups of a half dozen or more. It is very easy for them to forget momentarily that the traffic is heavy and to relax for a moment the vigilance which is always necessary. For this reason, motorists should always use special care when passing children. The motorist should be sure to sound his horn and make sure that the child knows that he is approaching. In their play children are apt to dart suddenly in the most unexpected directions and can easily run headon into an approaching automobile, especially if they do not know of its approach. All adults have been children, and many ought to remember how children feel and act after a long day with teacher. Drivers must make allowances for this.

"Besides sounding the horn, the motorist should, if possible, give the pedestrian a wide berth and have the car under such control that it can be stopped on very short notice. Pedestrians should reciprocate with a like courtesy. There is practically always along a road a shoulder wide enough to permit a pedestrian to step into the clear when a vehicle approaches. Not only is this for the pedestrian's own safety, but it is an unmistakable indication that the pedestrian knows of the vehicle's approach and has according to the motorist the courtesy required by statute, especially if accompanied by a movement of the hand or some thing of that nature.

"A few years ago hitch-hiking was a favorite pastime, and the roads were full of young people looking for rides. This practice is no longer popular. Too many of these hitch-hikers took unfair advantages of their hospitable hosts, and the practice of soliciting rides has fallen into such disrepute that the new traffic code has made it an offense, punishable by fines, to be on the highway for the purpose of soliciting rides from the operator of a privately owned motor vehicle. It is also a punishable offense to stand or loiter on any roadway other than in a safety zone, if such act interferes with the lawful movement of traffic."

AIR MAIL CARRYING RATES ARE CHANGED

Planes to Carry Mail After Oct. 1 on Space-mileage Basis

Beginning Oct. 1 air mail on Wisconsin routes will be carried on a space and mileage basis instead of on a poundage basis, according to an announcement made by Postmaster Peter F. Plasecki at Milwaukee. The Wisconsin routes are operated under contract by the Northwest Airways, Inc.

The new rate will apply to the Chicago, Milwaukee and twin cities route, the Fox river valley route from Milwaukee to Green Bay and the Rock river division from Madison and Elgin to Chicago.

The postoffice will now contract for space in the planes and pay according to distances flown, in accordance with the Watres bill, passed in the last session of Congress.

Since Oct. 1, 1928, when Northwest Airways took over the air mail from Charles Dickinson, pioneer Chicago air mail operator, the basis of pay for the carrier has been $2.75 per pound. In the four years Milwaukee's air mail volume has grown from 300 to more than 3,000 pounds per month, Mr. Plasecki said. The lowest mark was 257 pounds in March, 1927, and the highest was 3,346 in July, 1929, when radio parts shipments were being made by air mail to the east.

METAL APARTMENT

Chicago — This city is to have the first all-metal apartment house in the United States. A silver-colored alloy of aluminum will cover the outside of the building, and the walls will only be three and one-half inches thick. The building will be 17 stories high. The walls, although extremely thin, are expected to retain heat better than brick walls.

Athletics Accept Challenge Hurlled By Noffke Fuels

PLAY FOR JUNIOR LEAGUE TITLE AT INTERLAKE PARK

Both Teams Are Confident They Will Be Returned the Winner

THE Athletics from the Fourth ward and the Noffke Fuels composed of a dozen youngsters many of whom also live in that section of the city, will meet in mortal combat Sunday afternoon at Interlake park, the game to decide the junior championship of the city.

Acceptance of a challenge issued by the Fuels a few days ago after beating the Merchants, of the Central Wisconsin league, follows:

"It is with the greatest of pleasure that the Athletics accept the well directed challenge of the Noffke Fuels the game to be played at the Interlake park.

"The Fuels have been making a big noise the last few weeks but so far nothing has been heard of the offer given some time ago, which was no other than 'put up—or shut up'."

"The A's with a patched up lineup won from the Fuels in the early part of the season by a lopsided score of 15-4, and feel they can make the score still larger and thereby cool off the heated Noffke Fuels.

"Beautiful will hurl for the A's with Left or Brown catching. The Fuels have Krause, Buss, and VanderZanden to do the hurling and may need more. Horn will be on the receiving end."

And what could tell the story any better!

BILL INGRAM LOST 25 MEN LAST FALL

But Navy Coach Does Not Expect Trouble Finding New Material

Annapolis, Md.—(P)—Bill Ingram, starting his fifth season as head coach of the Navy football team, is reaping the benefits of a system started four years ago when he looked to the future and sought a continuous stream of seasoned material year after year.

Graduation last June removed 25 of the 44 members of the varsity squad, but most of those left have had considerable experience.

He anticipates difficulty in filling the three center places in the line and one end and in finding a man to replace Joe Clifton, plugging full-back and defensive star.

The backfield is giving the coaching staff less worry. Antrim and Hargrave, both of whom saw much service as substitutes for Clifton, have returned and Erick of the 1929 plebes has shown promise. One of the greatest hopes of the middle outfit is Lou Kirt. Johnny Gannon and Jack Grabtree, regulars, are also on hand.

The schedule: Oct. 4, William and Mary; 11, Notre Dame; 18, Duke; 25, Princeton; at Princeton; Nov. 1, West Virginia Wesleyan; 8, Ohio State at Baltimore; 15, Southern Methodist at Baltimore; 22, Maryland, 29, George Washington; Dec. 6, Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.

A's in Short

Lefty Grove, the fire ball pitcher, has gone through the greatest season of his career. He has won as many games as in his best year of pitching "major league ball" in the International league.

Dib Williams, Greenbrier, Ark., boy, is expected to grow to the stature of one of the game's greatest infielders. Williams and Eric McNair are being groomed to succeed Boley and Bishop around second base.

Before he entered baseball in 1922 with Portland in the Pacific coast league, Rube Walberg, left hander, was a sailor. Though Rube this season had his fast one and great curve on hand, he has been able to pitch little better than .300 due to poor control.

Jimmy Dykes, whose .421 batting average led all the Athletic regulars in the last world's series, has never been known as a slugger. He has been with the club steadily since 1919, and his big value to Mack has been his ability to fill any position. He has played third all season.

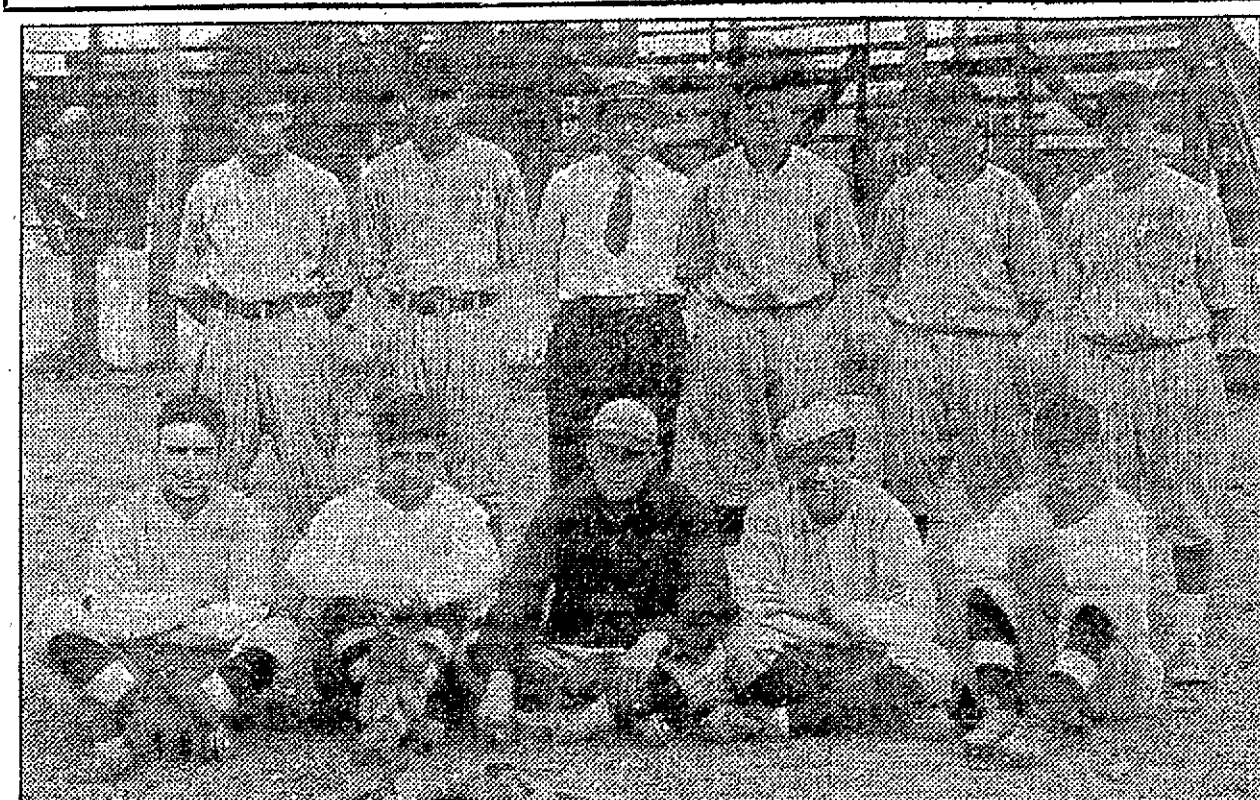

Joe Boley, shortstop, only one season has been able to hit as well with the Athletics as he did with Baltimore. Baseball men think he left a part of his major league career in Baltimore before any big league manager would part with the money necessary for his release. His fine fielding keeps him in the lineup.

No one seems to remember the "Water Bucket" which formerly was tacked on the name of Al Simmons. Simmons has made a virtue of what formerly was considered a bad batting fault. Drawing away slightly from the plate, with his powerful shoulder swing he can and does hit any kind of ball as is attested to by his heavy batting average.

Jimmy Fox's slight falling off in batting this year is attributed to the fact that he has reduced his weight. He looks much smoother around first base this year.

Max Bishop, second baseman, who cost around $50,000, is another of the Baltimore beauties that Mack bought after he decided he couldn't mold a team out of bushers.

Northeastern Wisconsin Champs

Here are members of the Hilbert base ball club which copped the Northeastern Wisconsin League title by winning 15 out of the 20 games played. The players, standing, left to right—Baer, r. f., Altman, c. f., T. L. DeLanty, manager, Hackbart, ss., Jensen, c. l. Suttner lb., and captain; lower row—Eldridge, 2b., Meier, 1b., Noel p., A. Suttner, sub., Schmidt, 3b.

Viking Freshman Grid Squad Developing Fast

RANGY and tall but in many instances lacking in beef, that is the freshman football squad at Lawrence college which numbers better than 30 youngsters. They are coached by Einar Tange, fresh mentor and after a week's practice have been worked into a squad which is good enough to make things highly interesting for the varsity during scrimmage sessions.

Outstanding among the yearlings is Bernard Fahres of Sheboygan who is fairly well known by persons who followed valley conference football and basketball during the last year. Fahres has been a member of the Chair squads and knows his football. His work with the frosh brands him one of the finest grid prospects ever to enter Lawrence.

Another yearling or rather two yearlings who are burning up things in the frosh line are Tony Greco, Milwaukee, an all city center in his high school days and Paul McKahan, Wausau, a guard. The two boys have been playing alongside each other in recent scrimmages and have made things plenty tough for the Big Blues.

Ralph Scott, De Pere; Glenn Thompson, Peshtigo; James Vedder, Marshfield; Lawrence Osterhouse, Appleton; Foster-Creviere, Kaukauna; Joseph Toman, Kaukauna; Tony Greco, Milwaukee; Paul Hesselgrave, Norwalk; Clifford Burg, Appleton; Francis Holden, Kenosha; Carroll Heffernan, Norwalk; Donald Strath, Earl, Milwaukee; Nathan Specior, Appleton; Richard Gus, Baraboo; Robert Scheible, Baraboo; Richard Hartman, Janesville; John Brauer, Wisconsin Rapids; Paul McKahan, Wausau; Ward Rosebush, Wisconsin Rapids; William Wiese, Wisconsin Rapids; Robert Grogan, Kaukauna; Morris Warzink, Merrill; Bernard Fahres, Sheboygan; Kenneth Kioehn, Appleton; Robert Ball, Rhinelander; Harold Schneider, Appleton; Roger Russell, Appleton; Edmund Webster, Menasha; Francis Thompson, Appleton; Donald Burdick, Black Creek.

Sports Question Box

Question—What athlete made the best record during any of the Olympic games? What nation did he represent?

Answer—Jim Thorpe, United States.

Question—Batter received a base on balls and for some reason the players in the field thought they would throw the ball around before the pitcher stepped into the box. In the meantime the runner kept on going. Manager of the team in field said he should be sent back to first. Was it necessary?

Answer—No. The runner could go as far as possible.

Question—Is Fidel La Barba a college graduate?

Answer—No. He finished his freshman year at Leland Stanford University and has not returned for further study.

Oshkosh Pros Playing Milwaukee "11" Sunday

OSHKOSH—Due to the fact the Milwaukee Nightawks will bring the greatest lineup of any team expected to play in Oshkosh this season or for many years, the Oshkosh All Stars look for the largest crowd ever to attend a football game in this city when the two meet Sunday afternoon.

Those in charge of the game have made arrangements for 1,500 reserved seats and confidently expect that close to 2,500 people will be present.

Milwaukee has a football team which, outside of Oshkosh, is playing no teams except those of the National Professional League.

WANTS LEAGUE BERTH Milwaukee is making a bid for a berth in that league and has started out this season with a lineup which is sure to gain recognition.

The visitors will have an array of stars, most of whom are good enough right now to play in the professional league.

The down state team is looking upon the Oshkosh game as a practice tie, hoping to beat the All Stars decisively and thereby be recognized on a par with the Packers who beat Oshkosh a week ago.

Oshkosh is determined that that is not to happen. Every man on the club is working hard and when they report here later in the week for night practice, possibly at Menasha, their condition will be such as to stand a tough battle.

CURTIS IS INJURED Ralph Curtis, the Oshkosh back who showed well at Green Bay, is still on the injured list.

This man means "End" Laabs will be moved to the backfield. Many Oshkosh fans would like to see Laabs in the backfield because he did such fine work there last year as a member of the Badgers.

Malevich, coach at St. Norbert's and a former Catholic university star of Washington, D. C., may also be with Oshkosh Sunday. If so, Oshkosh worries in the backfield will be lessened to a great degree as Malevich is a capable fullback.

The men, which the Oshkosh team will retain for the balance of the season, are Bredendich, center; "Pete" Schultz, Laabs, Bloomquist, Shipper, Cella, guards; Glashen, Hall and Drafts, tackles; Padatti, a guard; Grunst, another tackle; Bizer, Jensen, Ladwig and Stip and Nooten, ends; Neerim, Feeney and O'Keefe, as quarterbacks, with Roach, Nason, the Curtis brothers, Rehl and Johnson as the great backs.

Three Appleton men are members of the Oshkosh squad. They are Sveide Johnson, fullback; John Roach half back; and Jack Nootenbart, at end. Seats for the fracas are reported selling at $1, with an extra quarter for reserved seats.

NAGURSKI AND RED GRANCE AT THE BAY SUNDAY

Play With Chicago Bears Who Haven't Beaten Packers Since 1927

CHICAGO—After playing a tie game with the Brooklyn Dodgers of the National league, the Chicago Bears resumed their all-day practice sessions Tuesday in preparation for the game at Green Bay Sunday with the Packers, 1929 champions.

Not since 1927 have the Bears won a game against the Packers. That year the Green Bay club was whipped twice. In 1928, the teams played a tie game at Green Bay, 12-12. Then the Packers came here twice and chalked up victories by the scores of 16-6 and 6-0. Last fall, Green Bay didn't have much trouble with the Bears and tucked away three consecutive victories.

TIME FOR WORM TO TURN George Halas and Ed Sternaman, Bear owners, have spared no expense in rounding up a ball club, which on paper, looks as good as any in the National league.

The Bears have been house-cleaned thoroughly and Ralph Jones, former Lake Forest college coach, is in complete charge of the team on the playing field. Jones has a collegiate reputation for producing winners and his experiment in the post-graduate brand of football is being watched with considerable interest throughout the country.

For three weeks the Bears' squad of 30 players has been working out five hours daily at the Mills stadium. Lunch has been served on the practice field.

MANY NEW MEN

Fourteen members of the 1929 team are in uniform again. They are: Sternaman, Walquist, Elness, Lyman, Murry, Carlson, Johnson, "Red" Grange, "Gardie" Grange, Senn, Holmer, Pearson, Fleckenstein and Trafton.

The new material includes Nesbitt of Drake, Schuetz of Wisconsin, Brumbaugh of Florida, Lintzenich of St. Louis, Pauly of W. and J., Nagurski of Minnesota, Frump of Ohio Wesleyan, Blackman of Tulsa, McMullen of Nebraska, Drury of St. Louis, Steinbeck of St. Thomas and Franklin of Franklin.

Outstanding among the recruits is Bruno Nagurski, Minnesota "all American. This hunky Gopher was sought by a half dozen National league clubs but the Bears got him. For three years Nagurski was a ter-

Cards Need Two More Games To Cinch N. L. Flag; Meet Bucs Today

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

THE National league pennant race finally has arrived at the point where it may be settled in one day's play. St. Louis starts its final four game series against Pittsburgh and Chicago clashes with the Cincinnati Reds.

If the league Cardinals can win today and the Reds can again assert the supremacy over the Cubs they have held all season the race will be over.

The Pirates already have knocked the New York Giants out of the pennant race while the Cubs, easy victims in Cincinnati, have done somewhat better against the Reds in Chicago and can be counted on to show their best with the pennant at stake. Yet if St. Louis wins, the best they can hope for is a tie while the Cards need but two victories in four games to clinch the title no matter what the Cubs do.

The rivals of the two leaders clashed yesterday but without giving the fans much chance to see what they may do today. Rain interrupted the game several times and finally halted it in the sixth inning, bringing Pittsburgh a 5 to 1 victory. Pie Traynor's home run in the first inning sent the Pirates off to a lead that never was threatened.

Brooklyn's floundering. Robins dropped into fourth place as they lost to the last place Phillies. With successive first inning homers by Chuck Klein and Don Hurst as the starting point, the Phils continued to hit hard and won by 6 to 3.

Klein's homer was his fortieth of the season.

In the only American league game, Boston defeated the second place Washington Senators, 6 to 3.

LOUISVILLE COPS FROM ROCHESTER, 7-3

Rochester, N. Y.—(P)—The American association jinx still hold sway over the Rochester Red Wings, champions of the International league.

Rochester won the international pennant in 1928 and 1929 but lost the "little world series" first to Indianapolis and then to Kansas City. Yesterday the Red Wings started out in quest of the title for the third straight year but dropped the first game to the Louisville Colonels, American association 1930 title holders, 7 to 3. The Red Wings outfit their western rivals 11 to 9 but Phil Weirert, Louisville's southpaw ace, was stingy with his blows in the pinches.

STATE HORSEMEN WOULD ORGANIZE

Will Also Start Benefit Fund for Drivers Injured in Fair Races

OSHKOSH—(P)—Appointed at a meeting of 50 horsemen, a committee of five today laid preliminary plans to organize horsemen and race drivers into a state association.

The group plans to ask the state association of fair societies at its January meeting to scatter county fair dates over a greater period during the summer months rather than hold so many of the fairs during August and September. The race men pointed out that they spent ten months training for races and then because of conflicting fair dates had opportunity to enter their horses in but few races.

Promptly by the mishap of Guy Crippen, West Allis driver who was injured while driving in a race here Tuesday, the group said it would sponsor a fund for the benefit of injured drivers. It plans to start the fund by "benefit races" to be held two days after the conclusion of the fair at Beaver Dam.

The committee appointed is composed of W. St. William, superintendent of speed at the Oshkosh track, T. H. O'Brien, superintendent of speed, Fond du Lac; Dr. J. P. West, Madison; Theodore Bartell, Milwaukee, and Orin Taylor, Elkhorn. The committee expects to call a state meeting of horsemen in November.

Joe Cronin, Washington shortstop, is one of the best players in the big leagues, in the opinion of Connie Mack.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

WALTER BERGER of the Braves is barely hitting .300, but has 84 homers according to recent averages. In the series between the Robins and Cubs, there was considerable use of the bean ball. Charley Root threw two swift dusters at Babe Herman. Babe hit the next one on a line for a couple of bases. Mr. Wisley has been traveling with his Cubs since that Flatbush disaster. The Braves are the joker in the National League deck, putting on every ounce of steam against the leaders in the stretch drive. The Giants have brought in a right-handed pitcher from Shreveport named Bill Morrell. and a catcher from San Antonio named Frank Leveque. which solves the problem of batting practice.

BOB JONES ONLY SEEDED PLAYER IN AMATEUR MEET

Practically All Veteran Players Have Been Eliminated at Merion

BY BRIAN BELL

ARDMORE, Pa., (AP)—When the third round of the amateur golf championship today brought the first of the long 36-hole matches there were only two players left in the "last eight" who had occupied such exalted positions before, Robert T. Jones, Jr., and Jess W. Sweetser, both former champions.

The Von Elms Voigts, Outlets, Willings and other land-marks of the great national competition were out of the picture with their places taken by the youngsters and one veteran who has been good in the past but never good enough.

The third round arrayed Eugene Homans, young New Jersey player, against John Letman, younger Chicago star; Charles Bayer, Los Angeles youth, against William F. McPhail 38-year-old Bostonian.

In the lower bracket Maurice McCarthy, former intercollegiate champion, faced Jess Sweetser, and Bob Jones was bracketed with Fay Coleman, California second representative among the survivors.

Bob Jones was the only seeded player left today. The black browed Maurice McCarthy, Jr., and the blonde 18-year-old Charles Seaver, were the Giant killers of the first day.

McCarthy had to work hard for his triumph. Watson carried him to the nineteenth hole and he had to travel 28 holes, a new notation record for the championship, to defeat George Von Elm, former champion. Seaver tossed Voigt out of the competition by defeating him two up and one to play.

Bobby Jones played a fine round against Ross Somerville, Canadian champion, and won five up and four to play. He played a poor round against Fred G. Hohlitzel, another Canadian, but the Toronto veteran was worse and the triple champion won in his morning scoring.

Lehman knocked Perkins out in the first round and Charlie Kocsis, young Detroitier, disposed of Francis Outmet, three and two.

Sweetser defeated Phil Finlay, two and one, in the morning but had to go 19 holes later to stop Jack Ahearn, Hamburg, N. Y. player. Cleman advanced by defeating John McHugh, who a few hours before had beaten Johnny Goodman, one up.

CONNIE MACK HIS 50 YEARS IN BASEBALL

NO. 6—THE GAME GROWS UP
BASEBALL was shedding its rough-neck habits for better manners when Connie Mack stepped into the managerial arena to manifest at once his genius for organizing championship clubs.

A product of the sandlots and the "rock 'em and sock 'em" days himself, Mack was the first big league manager to comb the college ball teams for talent.

The game was becoming a more fashionable sport. Mack did not consider a college diploma a handicap to prospective recruits, nor share the derisive attitude of oldtimers toward the boys who did noble deeds for the old alma mater.

Mack's development of players with little or no professional experience soon earned him the name of the "Tall Tutor" and "The Professor." Connie looked more like a sedate college teacher of ancient history than the type generally associated with the management of big league ball clubs. Of kindly and sympathetic nature, his reputation attracted ambitious youngsters. They were given a hearing and some advice, if not an actual trial.

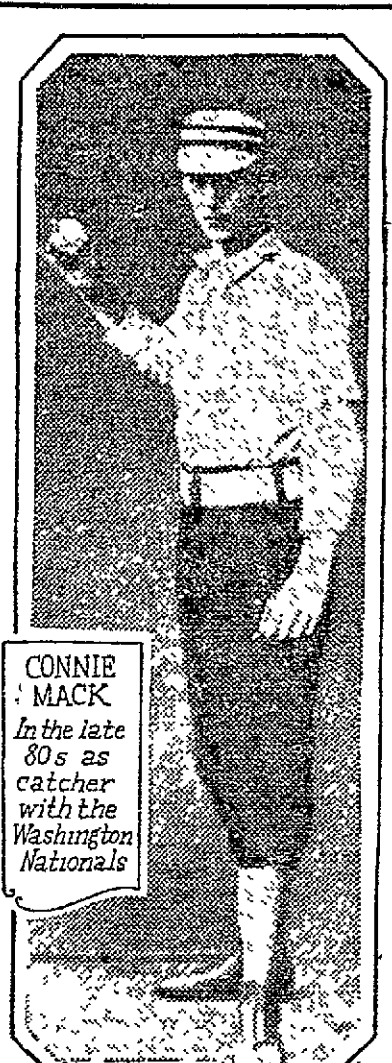

I was in Mack's office years later at Shibe park one morning when a loose, gangling youth, cap in hand, made a somewhat embarrassed entrance. A plea to see "Mr. Mack" had got him by the gate-tender. Connie looked up, indicating no trace of annoyance at the interruption. The youth blushed, told how he had been pitching for a team up in the Pennsylvania coal towns and confessed he'd like to "get a job." Mack asked him a few questions then sent him down to the clubhouse for a uniform and later inspection in practice.

"He may not have a thing, but he's ambitious enough to come down here to see me," said Mack. "Perhaps we can start him off right. It's part of the game to give these boys a chance. And, who knows, he might be a real prospect?"

This was typical of the encouragement, patience and kindness by which Mack helped in the development of hundreds of major league players.

Two of the stars of Mack's first championship team in 1902 were plucked from college ranks—Eddie Plank of Gettysburg, the great south-performers in 1902, however, so Mack surrounded himself with plenty of seasoned, rough-and-ready talent. Napoleon Lajoie and Elmer Flick were attracted from the National league, along with Chick Fraser, a noted pitcher.

The As had a wonderful infield, with Harry Davis at first base, second, Monte Cross at shortstop and Lavo Cross at third base. In the outfield were Flick, Hartel and Fultz; behind the bat, Powers and Schreckengost; in the box, Fred Mitchell, Fraser, Rube Waddell and Eddie Plank.

This great combination was broken up by a supreme court ruling depriving the club of the players who had jumped from the National league but Mack plugged the holes and won his first pennant nevertheless, beating out St. Louis and Boston. Waddell, Danny Murphy and Socks Seybold were among the replacements and the team put on a sensational spurt, coming up from last place to win the pennant. Seybold led the home run sluggers with 16, a tremendous total in those days.

In Waddell, the great southpaw, and Ossie Schreck, the As of 1902 put together one of the most colorful batteries of all time. Both were eccentric, often comic, yet among the most brilliant performers the game has ever had.

Mack had handled the erratic Waddell while at Milwaukee. He knew how to get the most out of the Rube's undoubted talent.

"He was a big fellow with tremendous speed," Mack said. "But, unfortunately, he had the brain of a child. When he was right he was as nearly unbeatable as any pitcher I have ever seen."

There have been many legends about Waddell, chief among them the notion that he had a habit of calling in his outfielders, then striking out the side. It is, however, a pleasant fiction developed solely from the fact that the Rube did this stunt several times in exhibition games, but never in actual league competition.

Schreck had the eccentric habit of doing as much of his backstopping

HOTEL ASSOCIATION TO DISCUSS TOURIST TRADE

LaCrosse—(AP)—Means of advertising Wisconsin's tourist facilities will form a topic for discussion at the 31th annual convention of the Wisconsin State Hotel association here Oct. 2-4.

Speakers will also show the relationship between good roads and the tourist trade. Hotel men and women from all parts of the state are expected to come her by auto.

"The hotel and resort operators of Wisconsin have long realized the necessity for a definite advertising program to bring the state's tourist attractions to the attention of the rest of the country," H. L. Ashworth, business manager of the association said.

as possible with his gloved hand only. This worried Mack, who considered it careless workmanship until Schreck finally convinced his manager he could do a better job one-handed than with two.

Once when Waddell, in an exhibition stunt, called in the infield as well as outfield and struck out the side, Schreck added to the novelty by catching every pitch one-handed from a sitting position.

One day, at St. Louis in 1908, Schreck smashed a thumb as the climax to accidents putting all of Mack's backstoppers on the casualty list.

"If you are worrying about who's going to catch, quit it," Schreck told Mack. "I'm going to do it. Put the Rube in, that's all I ask."

Schreck caught every pitch with his gloved hand and threw out every St. Louis runner who tried to steal despite the bandaged thumb. And the Athletics won.

SERIOUS EATING PERIOD RETURNS

Apple Pie and "Blue Danube" Waltz Replace Jazz, Alien Dishes

Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press

New York—(CPA)—Two old timers are back—apple pie and the "Blue Danube" waltz. Jazz is skidding and an era of sedate and serious eating is setting in. The winds of adversity are blowing the froth off the play world and putting such ancient pastimes as eating and dancing on their merits.

One of the gaudiest crooning and jazzing emporiums in New York, where an easy-going populace has been accustomed to trifling with alien dishes, announced today that it is reopening as a regular old-fashioned eating joint, where one may obtain baked beans, hash, hot cakes, and other such traditional American food. Furthermore, the Viennese doorman will be stripped of all his gold braid and made over into a colonial minute man. Decorations and furniture will be colonial.

The bouncer will be alert to oust any strain of jazz that may creep in to the dance music. Music, however, will not go so far back as the cuisine in picking up the past. It will be a discreet compromise with modernity.

The extension of Sixth-ave, and other devastating changes in Greenwich village blasted quite a few of the "atmosphere" joints off the map. Out-of-town buyers and young things seeking thrills will return in a year or two to find them reopened elsewhere as straight-away eating places, with old St. Vitus dethroned as the musical deity.

FIRE DESTROYS GORGES HOME ON READFIELD ROAD

Loss Is Estimated at Approximately $3,000, Owner Reports

New London—Fire starting in a woodshed Wednesday night spread to the residence of Walter Gorges on Readfield. Chemicals used by the Readfield fire department failed to check the flames, which were fanned by a high wind. The New London department was sent for, but the home was too far gone when the department arrived. The fire, of unknown origin, spread quickly and only the right direction of the wind kept buildings on the Albert Gorges farm from catching fire.

Some insurance was carried on the home, and most of the household furniture was saved. The loss will be in the neighborhood of $3,000, it is estimated.

Your Birthday

WHAT TOMORROW MEANS TO YOU "LIBRA"

If September 26th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m., from 5 p. m. to 6:15 p. m. and from 11 p. m. to midnight. The favorable periods are from 9 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. and from 3 p. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Events on this date will be a "mixed grill" of good and bad, although none of ultra importance are astrologically indicated. Writings favor you. All clouds which loom across your path will have silver linings, and pleasure will follow pain. Social accomplishments.

Children born on this September 26th will be changeable-minded and lacking in continuity. They will excel in sports, rather than in their studies. They are mentally too lazy to win scholarships, although they have the brain capacity.

As you were born under Libra, the sign of the balance, it is natural for you to have an orderly mind, a well balanced nature, and a most dispassionate judgment. You are able to weigh and balance all things mentally. You love harmony so much, that its hurts inharmonious atmospheres or to live with people with whom you cannot vibrate in peace.

You are remarkably intuitive, and you are thus enabled to draw from two sources—the seen and the unseen world. You will find, however, that your "bunches" are your safest bets. You have psychic gifts waiting to be developed. You are impatient and careless, but your personal faults are easily forgiven, because you are usually so even-tempered and amenable to all good influences which may surround you.

You are fitted for positions of refinement—such as secretarial work or that of a librarian. Your artistic ability could be sold as a decorator, designer or modelist. You are easy to work with, and you are almost too anxious to do more than your share. Your sense of justice controls all your actions of life. There is a certain lack of decision observed in your make-up, and you generally wait to see "what happens," or what is done by others before moving yourself. There are many voyages to and journeys in distant countries pictured for you.

SUCCESSFUL PEOPLE BORN September 26th:

Of Interest To Farmers

WISCONSIN MILK PRICES TURN UP

Low Point of Year Was Reached in June When Price Averaged $1.51

Madison—Wisconsin milk prices during the past month have shown a definite upward trend, rising from an average of $1.25 per hundred for July to $1.60 per hundred for August. The low point of this year was in June with an average price of $1.51 per hundred. In spite of the improvement in milk prices which has recently taken place, the August price was still 38 cents per hundred under the price of a year ago, according to the crop reporting service of the Wisconsin and the United States departments of agriculture at Madison.

Milk production declined rather sharply since the beginning of August. For the United States as a whole, production per cow fell off about 6 per cent, the dry weather having already reduced production for the country during July. In Wisconsin where feed conditions were relatively good to midsummer, the sharpest decline in milk production per cow came after August 1, and a decline in production of about 10 per cent as compared with a year ago was recorded early in September. The smaller production per cow is probably partly offset by the fact that there are more cows on the farms now than there were a year ago.

The upswing in milk prices which began in July followed a recovery in the prices of both butter and cheese. With the shortage of feed which exists in many states and the widespread reduction in the production of milk and cream, the prospects now are for a continuation of the price advances during the present fall, and perhaps the early winter. The number of cows on the farms is very high, however, and with the return of pastures next year production can be expected to resume its high level. Unless business conditions improve materially during the next year, it appears likely that following improvement in prices during the present fall and winter a period of depressed prices is again likely to occur. Much depends upon the food situation next year which will, no doubt, be affected to some extent by the fact that the dry weather of the past summer has reduced the new seedings, which will affect next year's hay and pasture crops.

Shipments of dairy cattle out of Wisconsin during August totaled 4,844 head as compared with 7,691 head in August last year, a decline of 37 per cent. The slower movement of cattle will cause increases in the milk herds of Wisconsin.

After Many Failures He Discovered A Real Pile Remedy

For years he suffered with itching piles. Now and then he'd get a little relief from some salve or other—but nothing much to speak of. Finally someone told him of Peterson's Ointment—of its powerful healing qualities which had brought such swift, blessed relief to thousands of pile sufferers. Somewhat doubtful, he bought a box—the first application absolutely convinced him that this was the most marvelous Ointment in the world. Why, man alive! That agonizing soreness went right out of those piles—the tortuous itching stopped—before he knew it his piles were gone. Every enterprising druggist in America knows of the mighty healing power of Peterson's Ointment—he knows it ends piles—one 35c box will prove it. adv.

DINNER PLATE WILL KEEP CHEESE FRESH

Cut End Should Be Placed Flat on Dish, Dairy Experts Point Out

Madison—By the use of an ordinary dinner plate, cheese may be kept fresh for several weeks according to J. W. Moore, cheese marketing specialist of the state commission of agriculture and markets who declares that too many housekeepers buy cheese only in small parcels because they do not know how to keep it fresh. Long horns weighing 12 pounds or half longhorns and five pound loaves are an excellent way to buy cheese. When the end of a longhorn is cut and a portion taken off for the day's use, Mr. Moore recommends rubbing the cheese with a knife to make it soft and to fill up the open spaces. The cheese can then be set up on end on the plate so that the cut surface fits firmly on the plate when it is then set in a cold place or cellar. The cheese will not mold and it may be kept easily several weeks. In case mold forms on the paraffin, this can be rubbed off with a cloth and the paraffin spread and smoothed with the hands to keep it in good condition. Butter should not be used on the cheese as it tends to give a musty flavor. Cheese loaves can be kept in the same way, the specialist explains. For families of moderate size a half longhorn, or a five pound loaf is not too much to buy at one time, as the use of the plate method will keep the cheese in good condition until it is used. Housekeepers find it a decided advantage to have a supply of cheese on hand so that it can be used at any time.

BRING FAIRY TALE TO LIFE TO HELP GANDHI'S STRUGGLE

Children Enrolled in "Monkey Army" Resulting from Old Story

Bombay—(AP)—A fairy tale dear to children of India has been brought to life by the National Congress association in its endeavor to interest people of all classes in Gandhi's struggle.

It is the story of the "monkey army," based on ancient Hindu mythology. A wise old monkey who thinks and schemes and talks is the hero.

The new monkey army, "Vanar Sena" in the vernacular, appeared first in Bombay. It is being formed by hundreds of thousands of children congress leaders say, and the aim is to have companies in every city and village.

Several times, as part of Gandhi's civil disobedience program, the "soldiers" declared a holiday. Schools were closed. Pupils who would not join were shooed away from classes.

Long processions of boys and girls marched through the streets daily for a week waving the congress colors and calling out "Righteousness for India." At the same time they urged all Indians to work for the cause of "Swaraj," or self-government. Another slogan was "Boycott British Goods."

The story of the monkey army is almost as old as the hills of India and starts out, "Once upon a time there lived a king." Other characters are the king's son, and the latter's beautiful princess bride.

The prince is Rama, big and strong, and his wife is Sita. The king has two arch enemies, a witch who contrives the banishment of Rama and Sita, and a neighboring ruler called Ravana, who, in the monkey world, is the Evil One.

While Rama and Sita pine in a forest to which they have been exiled, Ravana kidnaps the bride. Rama wanders among the trees calling "Sita! My Sita!" until the mountain cry reaches the ears of the monkey folk.

Hanuman, chief of the monkeys, volunteers his services. He is a son of the Wind God and exceedingly wise. He knows, therefore, that Ravana has stolen Sita and taken her to a palace at Lanka, and he summons monkeys from far and near until an enormous army is assembled.

They move against Ravana, beating coconut war drums and blowing bamboo trumpets. The Evil One has an army of apes as defenders, but Hanuman, using his tail as a torch, sets fire to the palace and the flames spread until the whole principality of the Evil One is consumed.

For ten days the monkeys battle the apes. Finally Ravana is killed and Rama and Sita are carried back home, where they find that the old king has died of grief and worry. Whereupon the young couple ascend the throne and reign long and happily. They keep honors upon Hanuman, who, among other prerogatives, rides about in a chariot drawn by hundreds of apes, thus showing that Wisdom controls Evil.

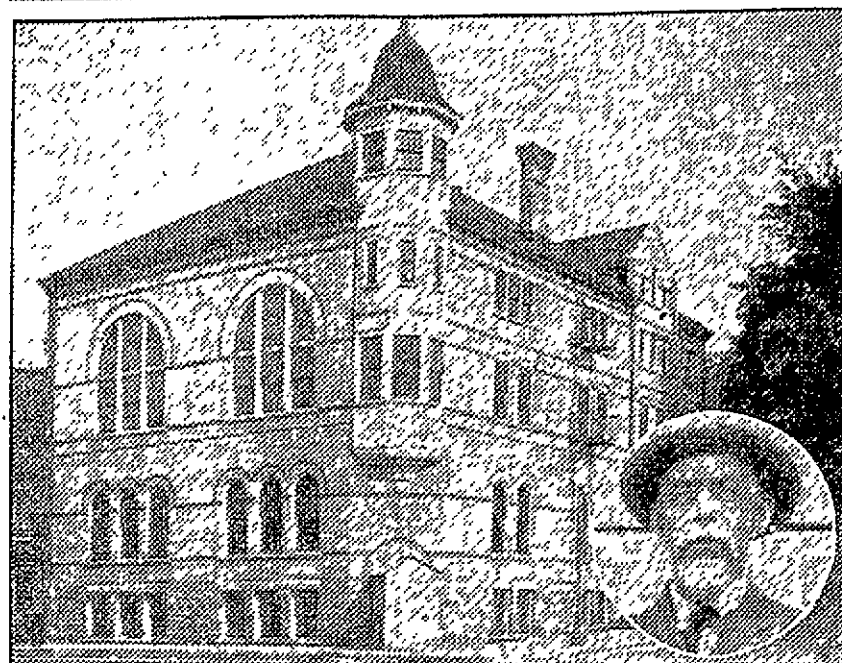

FOND DU LAC COUNCIL AGAINST HIGHER WATER

Fond du Lac—(AP)—The common council is on record as opposing the proposal of waterpower interests to raise the level of Lake Winnebago.

The present level of the lake has been fixed at 15 inches above the crest of Menasha dam. Power interests seek to have it raised two inches while Fox river valley farmers have asked that it be lowered two inches. The council directed City Clerk C. J. Fay to send telegrams to war department engineers and to officers of the Association for the Relief of High Waters to protest the proposed raise.

New York has several hiking clubs which take weekend trips into nearby state parks.

Home of Waupaca Danes

Above is a picture of "De Danskes Hjem," the home of the Danes in Waupaca, around which is woven a long, colorful history. Constructed in the late '70s by a group of young immigrants, the structure has been the center of Danish activities for many years.

Waupaca Danish Society Has Colorful History

The only living, continuous charter members of the Waupaca branch of the Danish Society of America is the distinction held by William J. Bendixen, who now resides in Catawba, northwest of Waupaca.

Mr. Bendixen, who was the first librarian of the society, had much to do with organizing the Danish society, and erecting the present Danes' home in Waupaca. Lars Larson, the second last charter member died last August after spending his last evening at a social in the Danes home.

The Danish society of Waupaca was organized by a group of young immigrants of Denmark in the early '70s, and during the Christmas holidays of 1876 a petition was circulated asking for a charter. Those who signed the original petition were the late Nels Larson, James Rasmussen, John Michelson, George Henningson, Andrew Rasmussen, George Nelson, James Peterson, Hans Yorkson, Andrew Anderson, Lars Larson and William Bendixen.

The first meeting was held Jan. 1, 1877 in a room on the second floor of a building which stood where the Bamel Furniture Mart now stands in Waupaca. The first officers were Hans Yorkson, president; Andrew Rasmussen, vice president; George Nelson, secretary; Lars Larson, and William Bendixen, librarian.

At this meeting, members agreed to bring books to be contributed toward the beginning of a library. The secretary was instructed to write to various Scandinavian newspapers in the country informing them of the new organization and its purposes and to furnish six different papers regularly for the cost of the postage to bring them to Waupaca. The library was to be in the Danish language, thus maintaining an interest in Danish literature.

Business meetings were held every Thursday evening and social meetings were held periodically. Gambling and intoxicating liquors were strictly forbidden on the premises.

In October, 1882, the old courthouse building was acquired for the society.

Put Soil In Shape Now For Vegetable Garden

While most of the flowering annuals can be sown this fall to good advantage, not so much can be done in the vegetable garden except put the soil in shape. A good spading, turning in compost or manure, is the best move that can be made for next spring's vegetable planting. The perennial vegetables, asparagus and rhubarb as well as mulch onions can be planted to excellent advantage this fall.

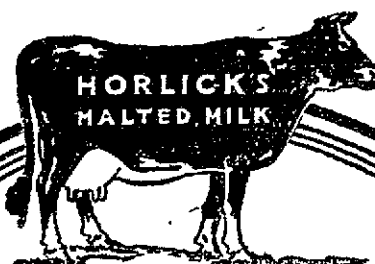

Spinach is the one early spring vegetable that may be planted in advance of the season to advantage. Prepare the bed and scatter the seed in the rows as late as possible and do not freeze ground. The idea is to get the seed sown so late that it will not germinate until next spring but will be ready to sprout as soon as the first favorable weather swells the germ in the seed.

Spinach must do all its growing in cool weather. The earlier it can be started the better and longer the crop. So fall sowing is a real advantage. Mulch the bed well after the seed is sown and remove the mulch early next spring, as soon as the ground starts to thaw. There is no use planting the old-fashioned small-leaf spinach. The modern inventions in the spinach life are so far superior, both in size of leaf and quality, that it is a foolish waste of space and time to bother with any but the newer sorts, mostly of Danish origin. It is more heat resistant and less prone to race up to seed at the slightest suspicion of warm weather.

Multipier, or potato onions as they are sometimes called, give the first young onions in spring. A few bulbs put in this fall will give you a crop before the onion sets can get into action. They are perfectly hardy.

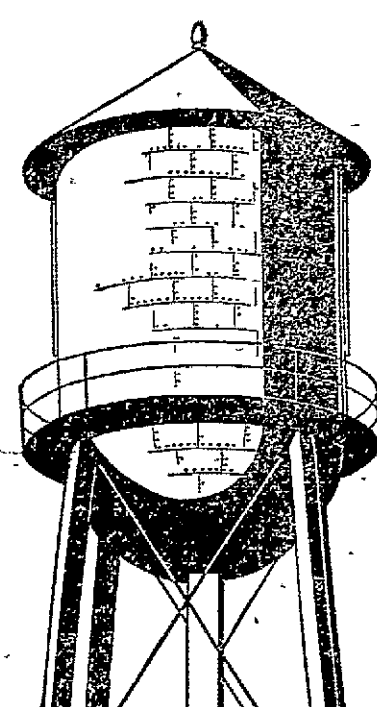

The asparagus bed should be set this fall, getting two-year-old plants from dealers. The main requisite is deep rich soil for asparagus and ample room for each hill, giving the plants three feet of space each way. Rhubarb roots should be set out now. Half a dozen plants will be sufficient to provide an ample supply for the average family.

The TORRID ZONE STEEL FURNACE
is gas-tight
and dust-tight
because it is riveted

Years after you've installed a Torrid Zone you can bank the fire for the night with complete assurance that the air from the registers upstairs is as clean, as untainted by gas or dust, as the day the furnace was bought.

For just as the water-tank is sealed water-tight by hot-riveting and cold-calking... so the steel Torrid Zone is made gas, smoke and dust-tight. Gas, smoke and dust-tight to keep the woodwork gleaming, the walls and ceilings clean, the curtains bright... gas, smoke and dust-tight to shield the family from unpleasant and even dangerous fumes.

The Torrid Zone produces from 10% to 20% more heat from the fuel than other furnaces. That's something to your coal bin! The deep fire-pot uses less fuel and secures better combustion. The oversized radiator takes more of the heat from the smoke and gases before they go up the chimney.

Humidity and ventilation become important health problems when the temperature is low,

the windows closed, and the furnace going. The Torrid Zone humidifier has twice the evaporating area of ordinary water pans right inside the casing and because rapid evaporation is also important, it is positioned directly above the firing doors where it gets the most heat. Proper air circulation is guaranteed when an authorized Lennox Furnace man installs your Torrid Zone according to the Standard Code.

Come in and see why this is the most efficient furnace that science has developed and why it makes a warm air system the most desirable. A free booklet describes it in detail. It burns soft coal, coke, hard coal, oil, lignite or gas with greater efficiency than any other furnace. We'll furnish plans and estimates for an installation if you like. Free engineering service is furnished from factory for special problems. Made by the LENNOX FURNACE COMPANY, SYRACUSE, NEW YORK—Marshalltown, Iowa—Toronto, Canada.

FREAK EXPLOITERS NO LONGER WANTED FOR ACTS ON STAGE

Period of Big Money Free-for-all for Youth Appears to Have Ended

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
(Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press)
New York — (CPA) — One of the major casualties in the bust-up of the big money free-for-all is the youth who used to stunt himself into fame and fortune by some exploit. Radio-Keith-Orpheum, largest booker of vaudeville in the country, announces today that hereafter mere notoriety will be no asset whatever in the entertainment world and that tree-sitters and the like may go on sitting if they want to, but they will receive no call to the spotlight.

Out in Springfield, Ill., there is a showwindow full of competing radio listeners, who have been listening to radio for two weeks without anybody paying much attention to them. Two young men recently drove an automobile backwards on a trip from New York to Los Angeles, and found no line of booking agents waiting for them on their return. Younger tree sitters have been appropriately spanked and sent to school. "Gee," says one, "there are signs of returning sanity, even among the bright lights of money lane."

LESS EXPLOITATION
Two of the leading motion picture companies have announced that in buying scripts and signing up authors they will no longer consider mere notoriety. They will take to Hollywood no more "name" writers from New York, unless it appears that those writers have an especial aptitude for scenario and dialogue writing and are willing to do a considerable stretch in learning the business—regardless of the flare of their names on the eastern night sky. There will be less and less exploitation of present names among film actors and actresses, unless their work justifies it.

There are indications that radio, along with the rest of the amusement world, is heavily discounting both notoriety and hokum in shaping its programs for the next few months. One of the most enlightening of recent events in this field was the slow but steady "fade-out" of a famous woman astrologer, whose weekly horoscopes for the breathless millions of a national broadcast were expected to be a record grand slam on the ether.

"Radio has dealt plenty of hokum in the past," said an official of a leading New York broadcasting station today, "but that time is over. Radio has grown up. There isn't a trace of hokum in it now. There is evidence of increasing taste, discrimination and general intelligence among radio listeners."

NOTORIETY USEFUL
Notoriety is useful, of course, for a radio personage, but it must be the right kind of notoriety and notoriety alone isn't enough.

The statement issued by Radio-Keith-Orpheum was, in part, as follows:
"There is no evidence in vaudeville for the sensational 'name' act. It may have its place in some houses, but not in the combination vaudeville-picture theatres."

"No guarantee of entertainment goes with such a name. About the only thing that can be depended upon to go with it is a big unhealthy and unearned salary. For the 'name' act of this classification barely ever draws its salary, and, as a rule, it flops on the stage."

Famous heroines of breach of promise suits, synthetic prize fighters like Primo Carners, girl bandits and the like will find themselves with a lot of unused notoriety on their hands, according to all this.

Enjoy your home more. $15.00 down and $3.33 per week brings you a new Coronado Radio with tone control — the newest in radio. Gamble Stores, 229 W. College Ave. Adv.

DIAMOND CLAIMS CRUEL INJUSTICE

His Cereal Beverage Business Still Holding Up in New York, However

Copyright 1930, By Cons. Press.
New York — (CPA) — Brooklyn friends of John T. (Legs) Diamond, booted out of Philadelphia by the police, said today that the prominent dealer in cereal beverages probably would go into retirement for a while at his villa near Catskill, New York.

Like the hero of the old song, "Legs" has been rambling considerably lately, and similarly, "they" rammed him out a mile or two and caught him on the fly, wherever he rambled. Philadelphia, in its neat pickup from the S. S. Hannover, ought to get an assist, as legs is still out. The late excitement over the disappearance of Harry Western, proprietor of a road house, in the room of one of Diamond's agents just as Diamond left for Europe, seems to have died down.

What Scientists Are Learning

SCIENTISTS STUDY PLANTS' METHODS TO PRODUCE FOOD

$200,000 Fund Set Up to Carry Out Tests at Antioch College

Yellow Springs, O. — (P) — A group of scientists at Antioch college here will spend the next 10 years trying to wrest from the world of plant life the secret of manufacturing food from free air and sunlight.

A $200,000 fund has been set up by C. F. Kettinger of Dayton, O., president of the General Motors Research Corporation. The scientific work will be under direction of Dr. O. L. Inman, head of the biology department at Antioch.

Dr. Inman will direct his research into the capacity of plants for photosynthesis, the process of producing sugars and starches from water and carbon dioxide in the atmosphere through the action of sunlight.

Theoretically, the perfect solution of the mystery of photosynthesis would deliver mankind from complete dependence upon plant life for existence.

Dr. Inman, however, does not hope for so complete a result as rendering plant life unnecessary, although he does not underestimate the practical importance of the secret to humans in many cases of emergency.

During the war, when food shortages were imminent, much progress in similar investigations was made by German scientists.

"We hope first to find out what the actual processes are," he said, "and then it will be time enough to consider what practical applications are possible."

Dr. Inman will work with a chemist and a physicist, each of whom will interpret for him the chemical and physical problems he encounters. Students at Antioch also will help.

Alloy Steel Increases
Philadelphia — (P) — Twenty years ago, says a report of the American Society of Testing Materials, less than one per cent of American steel production was alloy steel, while now it is more than six per cent.

"PENCIL OF SOUND" MAY LOCATE DANGERS

New York — (P) — Use of a pencil of sound as an underwater "searchlight" for greater safety at sea is forecast by Horatio V. Lamson of the General Radio Company in a report to the Acoustical Society of America.

The pencil of sound is produced by "supersonics," that is, by comparatively short wave lengths, produced at present from vibrating quartz crystals. The vibrating diaphragm when submerged may be swung about under water and Mr. Lamson says:

"If these supersonic waves happen to strike the submerged portion of an iceberg, sufficient energy will be reflected back to be received by a device similar to the transmitter, and subsequently amplified and detected audibly by heterodyne methods. Thus we may anticipate having in the future the supersonic search light for locating in thick weather such menacing obstacles as the huge icebergs."

TEST CHROMIUM PLATE FOR AIR'S EFFECT ON IT

Philadelphia — (P) — The American Society for Testing Materials announces a two year test of chromium plate resistance to the air in manufacturing communities as compared with places like Sandy Hook and Key West.

About 500 specimens of chromium will be exposed altogether. They are prepared by the U. S. Bureau of Standards. Tests on some other metals have shown that the sulphur from chimneys of industrial plants makes the air more corrosive than that of non-industrial centers.

EARTH'S ATMOSPHERE "TRAPS" SUN'S HEAT

Washington — (P) — The earth's atmosphere is a real trap for the sun's heat, for like a mouse trap what goes in cannot get out. A Carnegie Institution report described the phenomenon. The sun's radiation enters the air in short wave lengths, and these change into longer wave lengths of heat after striking the earth. The long heat waves try to get away, but in their longer form cannot penetrate the air which they pierced easily in their incoming short form.

SEA LEVEL BECOMING HIGHER TOWARD NORTH

Washington — (P) — Surveys of five nations show that sea level gets higher as the surveyors proceed northward.

These surveys have been made by the United States, Russia, France, England and Japan, says Major William Bowie, chief of the division of geodesy of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.

South of the equator no tests have been made, but Major Bowie says "It is possible that there the mean sea level would tilt upward as one approached the south pole."

PREFER NUDE VENUS

Winona Lake, Ind. — Mrs. Mary Schell Star looked with displeasure on the nude statue of Venus which stood in the town park and which was presented to the city 20 years ago. She planted some ivy at the bottom of it, hoping that it would grow and cover the nakedness of the statue. But Chief of Police Frank C. Edington, trustee of the local Presbyterian church, approved the action of the fire department in shooting all the ivy off the statue with the city's fire hose.

Garments Come With Collars of Racoon to Make Nice Combination

BY AILEEN LAMONT
Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press

New York — (CPA) — Maybe you know the ocelot, which looks so much like a leopard, only with smaller spots? Well, they are making ocelot coats with collars of racoon, a combination which never could exist if the ocelot were healed instead of merely cured, but a combination nevertheless which is extremely satisfactory.

And on the other hand, you may have one of those lapin—or rabbit—collars on your new frock, the collar stenciled in leopard pattern. Among the sort of frocks on which this sort of collar appears are the dresses of stiffened velvet which bid fair to become pretty popular.

Once more, be sure you have the kind of a brow from which your new hat can be pushed off at the

FORMER IRISH GENERAL SUCCUMBS AT DUBLIN

Dublin, Irish Free State — (P) — General Sir Bryan Mahon, 68, former commander of British troops in Ireland, died here Wednesday.

General Mahon up to the time of his death was a senator for the Irish Free State. He was a native of County Galway and retired from active British service in 1923.

He served in India and Egypt before he became member of a cavalry brigade in the South African war. He led the famous flying column which came to the relief of Mafeking in May, 1900, lifting the siege of Colonel Robert Baden-Powell and a small force which had held out against the Boers for 217 days.

He served with distinction in the World war and was often cited in dispatches. He was knighted in 1900.

correct angle without causing your best friends to burst into raucous giggles. Sometimes you look like a Burne-Jones in such a hat, sometimes you look like a whatisit cartoon. But, anyway, the little clip of brilliant just where the hat shines off the right temple is invariably an attractive addition.

WOMAN ACCIDENTALLY KILLED BY GOLF CLUB

Milwaukee — (P) — Mrs. Ellen Neuman, 21, West Allis, was fatally injured Tuesday when accidentally struck by a golf club in the hands of her husband, Harold R. Neuman.

She died in a County hospital Wednesday morning. Standing behind her husband as he made a tee shot, Mrs. Neuman was struck on the left side of the head when her husband missed the ball and the club head circled around his shoulders. They had been married less than two years and were the parents of a three-months-old daughter.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY ORGANIZED IN DANE-CO

Madison — (P) — Beneficiaries of deceased members of the Dane County Benevolent Society will receive one dollar from each of the living members under the plan outlined in incorporation papers filed with the secretary of state here this week.

Members will pay no dues and payment of not more than $300 will be made to a single beneficiary after the death of a member. Three Madison residents filed incorporation papers.

How Old Are You?

Today Said She—I'm 43

Am I Fat?—Not Me

Yes! A year ago I had twenty-two more pounds of fat than I needed—I was fat—and very sensitive about it—but now I say it is foolish for anyone to be overweight. What did I do? Nothing very hard, I can assure you—I cut out pies—candy and all sweets — ate moderately and every morning before breakfast I took one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water—Never missed a morning.

I lost fat — gained in energy — vigor—charm — and vivaciousness and have a shapely figure I am proud of — anyone can do the same.

A North Carolina woman lost 47 pounds in 3 months — a Montana woman lost 19 pounds in 4 weeks — Wisconsin woman 11 pounds in 10 weeks.

"BIG BILL" STILL UNDECIDED ABOUT ANOTHER CAMPAIGN

Possible Return to Political Picture Takes Politicians by Surprise

BY OWEN L. SCOTT
Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
Chicago—(CPA)—William Hale Thompson, bombastic enemy of King George and three-time mayor of Chicago, Wednesday let it be known that his mind is not made up of the question of a fourth term.
He will abide by the decision of local parties that mayoralty booms to be launched in anticipation of the primary election next February, must wait for the November election. But Chicago's "Big Bill," after three years of almost total obscurity, suddenly has appeared here in full bloom to revive stories that he once more is in the race.
Hizzoner, however, has backed out of his bitter shadow fight with the king. Instead of promising to punch the British monarch "on the snout," he now has his eye on "long haired men and short haired women" who he thinks have this country in a bad way. His present call is for a return of government to "red-blooded Americans" by taking it out of the hands of "white livered reformers."
Big Bill shows surprising resilience. After bouncing up into the limelight as a presidential possibility back in 1915, he was down in the political depths in 1917.
HE'S UP, DOWN
He was up again in 1919 and down so low in 1923 that he didn't even seek renomination as a third term mayoralty candidate. By 1927 he was on top of the wave once more, ranting against King George and looking to the presidency. But by 1928 he had been repudiated by the city and passed into expected oblivion. Now he is emerging once more and local politicians are in a cold sweat over the possibilities of the situation.
A year ago Mayor Thompson was a sick man. His doctor doubted that he ever would be active again. But rest, and a recent long vacation in the east have caused him to look better than at any time in years and Big Bill says that he feels like "he looks There is a typical ring to the statement which may signalize his return to battle."
"I believe after a survey of the east and with the knowledge I have of the west, that the time has come," he declares, "to put the short haired women and the long haired men in the background where they belong and to let the red-blooded Americans take charge of problems."
"Short haired women and long haired men have tried to put into operation a number of crazy ideas that have seriously affected the welfare of our people. Ninety per cent of the conditions that affect us have been brought about by these irresponsible people who have obtained a hold on the government and who have almost wrecked it."
TOWN WID OPEN
During the present administration of Mayor Thompson, Chicago has seen its business men revolt against the wide open gambling which followed his inauguration. The town has been overrun with gunmen. It has gone through a period of bankruptcy, staged two political revolts, has seen its schools turned over to the politicians and taken away from them, and in general has had a hectic period.
If the mayor should seek a fourth term, as he indicates he might, the move would completely upset party plans. All of the figuring has been done on the theory that, after 12 years in office Big Bill was to fade from the picture. It may be that his health, now apparently so good, may not stand the strain of activity. In that case the city probably would miss out on another picturesque battle.

DIAL TELEPHONES WIN NO FAVOR FROM DETECTIVE OFFICER

Washington —(P)—Detective Sergeant Kane of Washington placed himself on record today as unalterably opposed to dial telephones. One Dave Perry, erstwhile prisoner, favors the device.
Kane detrained from Charlotte, N. C., this morning leading Perry by a handcuff. He stepped into a telephone booth to tell headquarters to send down the wagon, but the hand cuff and the dial didn't mix. He unlocked the bracelet and completed his call in time to tell headquarters the wagon was no longer needed. Perry had left.

MAY HAVE 3RD CAREER
Manitowoc —(P)—Rumors were current here today that a third career line to be run by the Grand Trunk, may operate out of this port next year.

At present the Pere Marquette and the Ann Arbor lines run ferries between Manitowoc and Michigan ports. The rumor was believed to have gained impetus by construction of an additional ferry slip here by the Northwestern road.

CLARA BOW EXPLAINS REASON FOR REFUSAL TO PAY $13,900 DEBT

Says She Thought 50-cent Pieces Were Just That and $100 Each

Los Angeles —(P)—Clara Bow, film-don't's red-head, has broken a two-day silence to answer assertions that she stopped payment on checks for $13,900 after offering them in payment of gambling losses at a Nevada hotel.

The actress' statement read in part:
"While I was at Lake Tahoe, Mr. Will Rogers invited Rex Bell, my secretary, Miss Devos and myself to dinner. I did not know the hotel was a gambling place until after we reached there. After we had dinner Mr. Rogers went to one of the gambling tables and naturally we went with him. I began to play a little at a game called 'twenty-one' which they call there 'Black Jack'.
"They gave me 50-cent pieces to play with and I signed some checks in blank, telling the dealer to fill in the amount of the 50-cent pieces he had given me. There were four checks.
"It now seems they claim these 50-cent pieces represented what they call $100 chips and they put enough in the checks to amount to that.

"When the checks reached my bank they called me and said the checks had a slip on them asking the bank to 'note fate of these checks'.
"This attracted the attention of my banker and I found out for the first time this gambling hotel claimed I had lost and owed them nearly $14,000, so I told the bank not to pay the checks.
"WILL PAY 'LEGAL CLAIM'
"If these people think they have an honest claim against me, I will gladly receive any legal document they serve on me, or they can present them to my attorney, Mr. W. I. Gilbert."
The repudiation of the checks was called to the attention of B. P. Schulberg, Paramount studio official by James McKay, owner of the hotel.
"Introducing Clara Bow to anybody," Rogers said, "is like introducing Hoover to the senate. Clara and her boy friend, Rex Bell, film actor, were going to dinner one night and I asked them to be my guests. The hotel is not solely a gambling house. A lot of divorcees stay over there in preference to Reno.

"I saw the wives of so many of my friends from back east that it was like old home week.
"I don't gamble much. Fifty or seventy-five dollars is my limit. I don't suppose it's going to hurt my reputation much for people to know I've been in a gambling house. I couldn't have been much of a cowboy without having seen a lot of gambling. I've been to Monte Carlo, too. I went over there to see what all those old women were doing bending over those tables.
"Clara wasn't gambling much while I was there. I saw her going around making a few bets, but she didn't appear to be betting much.
"But I don't like the idea of my riding to fame on the skirts of Clara Bow."

- 1st—"RELIABILITY OF LOCAL REPRESENTATIVE." Ability to give service.
- 2nd—"GRADE OF FUEL WHICH BURNER IS CAPABLE OF BURNING." They have found that relatively low grades attain greatest economy.
- 3rd—"AMOUNT OF NOISE." A noisy burner is very objectionable.
- 4th—"AMOUNT OF CLEANING OR ATTENTION REQUIRED."
- 5th—"ACCESSIBILITY." In order that necessary repairs may be easily and quickly made.
- 6th—"AVAILABILITY OF GAS OR ELECTRICITY."
- 7th—"CAPACITY OF BURNER." Be sure that the burner you buy is the right size for your home. If it is either too small or too large it will be neither satisfactory or efficient.
- 8th—"PRICE." Price should be the last consideration as the cheapest burner may cost more in service, fuel, and discomfort than a higher priced one.

STOCKS IRREGULAR ON NEW YORK MART; TREND IS DOWNWARD

Selling Is Directed on Individual Issues — Trading Falls Off

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER, Associated Press Financial Editor
New York (AP)—Stocks bobbed up and down in confusion today, but the main trend was downward. The market, nervous after its recent experiences, moved with decided irregularity, developing little strength on the rallies and, on the other hand, becoming more active whenever professional offerings were pressed. Sentiment was improved somewhat by the early rise of wheat.

Selling, however, was directed more noticeably to individual issues and a couple of well-defined groups, and so-called pivotal shares as a rule found support on the reactions. Pressure was particularly strong against the farm implements and the oils; more than a dozen of the latter classification broke to new lows for the year.

U. S. Steel, after making fractional improvement, sagged a couple of points and American Can turned a one point advance into a moderate loss. On the whole, the same course was followed by other investment stocks, including American Telephone and General Electric. Case tumbled 10 points. International Harvester 4 and Prairie Pipe about 5, all of new minimums. Allied Chemical, Auburn Auto and American Smelting lost 3.

Vanadium and a few other pool stocks, in which liquidation was seen yesterday, were again heavy. Standard Oil of New York, Shell, Packard and Chrysler, among many others, dipped to new 1930 lows.

New York City traction shares were a strong feature and made some prominent advances under buying stimulated by a belief that recent developments forecast important and possibly successful efforts toward unification. Brooklyn-Manhattan guaranteed, an inactive stock, soared more than 17 points and gains of 3 to 4 in the active members of the group were general.

The gloomy rumors which have accompanied recent pressure against stocks were largely missing and although some reports of little credence in culminated in the financial community, their absence was something of a relief.

Last week's gain in steel operations drew considerable comment. Some experts on the industry felt that the upward trend might not be so evident when the next report came out, basing their contention on the ground that production might again pass requirements for finished goods, thus permitting a slackening in output. In this connection it was pointed out that the railroads have far made little or no inquiry or rails, notwithstanding the fact that the usual season for this demand had not yet begun.

The automotive industry, another important user of steel, is likewise unimpressed. One of the trade papers expressed the opinion that production of motor cars this year would probably fall below 4,000,000 units for the first time since 1927 unless an unforeseen improvement appeared. Another publication asserted that a large volume of deferred purchases of automobiles had piled up and that manufacturers were expecting to reap the benefits of larger replacement orders next year when the business uncertainty should have been allayed.

The dividend actions by the Anaconda Copper group had been expected. Anaconda's cut to a $2.50 dividend brought a rally in the shares on coverage from shorts who had thought that large reduction was likely. The 90-cent share in which Anaconda holds a 90 per cent interest and Inspiration Consolidated, another member of the family, omitted their annual payments entirely.

Money was almost embarrassingly abundant. Some of the brokers in the outside market quoted call loans as low as one per cent. Reductions of 1/2 of a per cent on several time loan maturities were also reported and 6 months accommodations, in a few instances at least, were available as low as 5/8.

PASTOR ADVISES STUDENTS HOW TO OCCUPY LEISURE

Read, Write, Make Friends, Take Part in Sports and Religion, He Says

Americans spend too much of their leisure time in passive enjoyment of sports and other activities instead of participating in them, Dr. H. B. Peabody, pastor of First Congregational church, told Lawrence students in chapel Wednesday morning.

Dr. Peabody said that college is the place in which to learn to play. Almost half of life is composed of leisure time or time spent in doing things that do not have to be done. One must learn to select a properly balanced program which will furnish both mental and physical stimulation and rest, he said.

As a guide for governing leisure time Dr. Peabody gave five suggestions: Reading, he said, is something everyone should learn to enjoy and appreciate. The ability to form and cultivate friendships is another asset because much spare time is spent just talking and associating with acquaintances. Correspondence was the third suggestion.

He advised that each student make an effort to write home several times a week because it is the parents who are interested in students and who are watching their progress. Sports should occupy a very important part of every one's leisure. Too many people, Dr. Peabody said, neglect the physical side of their development with consequent ill health in later life. Religion was the fifth point stressed.

"Each individual should make an effort to obtain a clearer conception of religion and thus prepare himself in a way for life hereafter," he said.

URGE REED TO REENTER RACE FOR SENATE SEAT

Washington—(P)—Friends of the veteran James A. Reed of Missouri, sought word from him here Wednesday on plans that he return to public life.

Two propositions confronted the silver-haired Missourian as he came to the capital from a trip through Europe. One is that he run again for the Democratic presidential nomination, the other, that he seek reelection to the senate two years hence.

The way has been opened for Reed to run again for the senate by the announcement of Senator Hawes, Democrat, Missouri, that he intended to retire at the expiration of his term in 1932.

Reed is an old foe of President Hoover. He attacked Hoover as food administrator under President Wilson while the Missourian was a member of the senate. He renewed his assault on the Republican president in a radio speech last spring.

Therefore, his friends argue the Missourian is the natural opponent of the administration for the 1932 campaign.

ITS COMING

London—When aviation comes — "You won't be able to sell a house unless there is room for an airplane," says Justice Rowlatt, famous Londoner. "It's not quite such a silly prophecy as it sounds. Who thought private garages a necessary 20 years ago?—and looked at us now! I hope we are wise enough to make sane regulations about airways while there is still time."

LONG ILLNESS IS HALTED BY FAMED KONJOLA

Lady, 73, Tells How Modern Medicine Routed Stomach Trouble After Suffering Twenty Years

MRS. CECILIA HERMAN

"At the age of 73, I had about given up hope of ever being rid of stomach trouble from which I suffered for twenty years," said Mrs. Cecilia Herman, 304 South Quincy street, Green Bay. "During all this time gas formed in my stomach after meals causing me to bloat and belch in a manner both distressing and embarrassing. I also suffered from a feeling of heaviness in the pit of my stomach. My appetite was poor, and not until I took Konjola did I find a medicine to help me."

"After reading several testimonials telling of the relief brought by Konjola I decided to put this new medicine to the test. The splendid results I obtained was far beyond my expectations. I regard my stomach trouble as practically overcome for gas no longer forms after I eat. I enjoy hearty meals, and my nerves are calm. I find myself stronger than for years, and I have more energy."

Konjola is a medicine for the old and young; for all the family. A medicine powerful in the obstinate cases of the aged yet one that may be given to the infant.

Konjola is sold in Appleton, Wis., at Schintz Bros. Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Mild "Jim" Byrnes Beats Stormy Senator Blease

Columbia, S. C. —(P)—History did not repeat itself in the South Carolina senatorial race.

James F. Byrnes, who once met defeat at the hands of Senator Cole L. Blease, reversed the order of things this year when he became the nominee of the democratic party, which is equivalent to election.

From court stenographer to the United States senate—that is, briefly stated, the career of the nominee.

Leaving school at the age of 14 to support his mother, Byrnes entered a law office in Charleston, where he picked up a knowledge of stenography.

Byrnes studied law in his spare time and was admitted to the South Carolina bar in 1903. He first entered politics when he was elected solicitor of the second district in 1908. Two years later he went to congress and served 14 years in the house of representatives.

In retiring, Blease to private life, South Carolina takes from the senate one of its most colorful figures, an old-fashioned fire-eater, who injected only a ghost of his old tactics into the primary campaign.

It replaces him with the quiet dignified Byrnes, who ignored political animosities in the campaign and confined himself largely to economic questions.

Byrnes is 51 years old, married, but has no children. He is a member of the Episcopal church, the Knights of Pythias and the Junior Order of United American Mechanics. He is also a 32nd degree Mason.

Warm Weather Keeps Fowl Farther North; Appleton Nimrods Find

Hunters report that ducks are few in this vicinity. Several nimrods, who hunted on Partridge lake and on the Rat river district above Fremont, and west of Shiocton said they
